

Post Office Staff And Mail Couriers Honour Mr. And Mrs. H. Philp

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houchin
Hosts At Party — Train
Case and Picture Presented

The local Post Office Staff, and the mail couriers and wives spent an enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Houchin on Thursday, June 30th. The purpose of the gathering was to pay tribute to the years of service given by Mrs. H. Philp (formerly Mrs. I. Thain) at the local office, and to honour Mr. and Mrs. Philp on their recent marriage.

After an hour or so spent in the garden the group gathered in the house, where Mr. Houchin, local Postmaster, acted as master of ceremonies. Miss Mary Hulin, Asst. Postmistress, and Fred McDonnell, mail courier, voiced the congratulations and good wishes of those present, with the former making the presentation of a train case to Mrs. Philp, and the latter, a framed picture, to Mr. and Mrs. Philp.

Mr. and Mrs. Philp expressed their sincere thanks for the gifts, after which refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

The following letter from the District Director, Ottawa, was read, and heartily endorsed by those present:

Dear Mrs. Philp:

It seems strange to be addressing you as Mrs. Philp after having known you and thought of you for so many years as Mrs. Thain. However, much as we regret the way your recent marriage will affect us we cannot do otherwise than wish you every happiness in your new surroundings.

Tonight your friends and associates, who have worked with you during the past five years and have come to know you intimately and at the same time appreciate your sterling qualities, have gathered to express in a tangible way how much your acquaintance has meant to them. Not only have you proved yourself an exemplary employee to your fellow workers but, in addition, have endeared yourself to the people of this community as well.

I believe the present is a most opportune time for me, on behalf of Mr. McDonald, officers of the Department and myself, to say how much we have appreciated your services in the Stirling Post Office. Your conduct has been most commendable in every respect, and I am sure the Postmaster will feel himself most fortunate should he be able to obtain a replacement of equal calibre.

In closing may I again express my best wishes that you and your husband may have many years of health and happiness before you.

Yours very sincerely,

G. E. Macklin

District Director

Rawdon Circuit Lawn Social Proves Successful

(By Florence M. MacMullen)

The members of the Paragon Board of the Rawdon United Church Circuit held their annual lawn social Friday evening, July 1st, on the grounds of Wellman's Public School.

Approximately four hundred people were in attendance, several of whom were visitors to Rawdon for the Canadian and American holiday. All the public school children as well as the members of the various ball teams etc., were admitted free.

The Stirling Citizens' Band under the leadership of President Jack Bush provided musical entertainment. The Rawdon Male Quartette, Messrs. Edgar Graham, Craig Watson, Ralph Johnson and Glenn Watson, with Miss Betty McConnell as piano accompanist, contributed several selections.

Mount Pleasant ball team from the two schools Williams and Allan, won over a mixed team from Bethel and Wellman's, while in a near-by field, an older group from Burnbrae and Wellman's played an exhibition game with Burnbrae winning the laurels. A tug-of-war between Seymour and Rawdon Townships resulted in a win for the Seymour Township group.

There were several races staged for the school children and the winners received cash prizes.

The Wellman's ladies provided a fish pond, the Bethel ladies, home-made candy and the Mount Pleasant ladies a twenty-five cent parcel sale. All of these groups had no difficulty disposing of their donations. There was also the usual confectionery and ice cream booth.

During the evening a plate containing two sandwiches, piece of pie, cake and cheese was served, topped off with coffee. The food was provided by the ladies of the Circuit.

Benches were arranged around the grounds for those who wished to sit awhile and rest.

Junior Farmer Church Service Held At Foxboro

"Quicksands of Doubt" was the topic chosen by Mr. Fred Waite, of Queen's University for the annual Hastings County Junior Farmers Church Service, held this year in the Foxboro United Church on Sunday, June 26th. Mr. Waite went on to compare our doubts — doubts about God, religion and Christianity — to quicksand, with God being the only one to help us out of the mire by faith and prayer if we would only listen for His voice speaking to us.

The service was conducted by the County President, Ralph Swan. Miss Mary Martin, visiting Scottish Young Farmer delegate, read the Scripture, while Miss Kathleen Homan, Vice-President of the County Juniors, led the Responsive Lesson.

The Junior Farmer Choir occupied the choir loft and rendered two anthems "Send Out Thy Light" and "Give Ear Unto My Prayer." Miss Ruth Mumby presided at the organ.

Junior Farmer and Junior Institute members from the nine Junior Farmer Clubs in Hastings were well represented at the Annual Field Day, held this year in Foxboro, on Friday, July 1st.

Thurlow Junior Farmers and Junior Institute were hosts, while the Foxboro Women's Institute catered to the group.

Sidney Junior Farmer boys triumphed over both Madoc and Thurlow by scores of 12-8 and 12-3 respectively, to win the ball trophy. They also won the right to represent Hastings County Junior Farmers at the District Field Day, to be held July 23rd, at the Ontario School for the Deaf, Belleville, Ontario.

Sidney Girls, as well, defeated the only other entry, Thurlow, by a score of 19-7 to win the cup donated by the Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner.

Weaver -- Turner -- Chard Reunion

The reunion of the descendants of the Weaver, Turner and Chard families was held in Clio, Michigan Park, on June 25th. Some of the ancestors of these people went to Michigan nearly a century ago and this was the 43rd reunion. Last year it was held at Marlette, fifty miles north east of Bichrun.

Last year there were 102 people in attendance, but this year there was a smaller attendance owing to early haying, and quite a number of men had to work in the factories as it was their Saturday to work. However, there was a very good attendance as several women and young people who drove themselves and brought several of the older generations, among whom were Mr. John Forbes and his wife, of Marlette. His brother was there last year and passed to the Great Beyond a few months later. Mr. Forbes could tell a great deal as he remembered Michigan seventy years ago when he was a boy. It was very interesting for this writer to hear as he had heard some of his people tell of visiting there about that time.

Picnic tables were set under the trees and being a beautiful June day there were no mosquitoes to draw one's attention. Mrs. B. Curtis, who visited here two years ago, was in charge of arrangements this year. Like a picnic here, it seemed as if everything one could imagine was on the tables. The interest in this reunion was shown by the number of young people present. Next year's picnic is to be held at Marlette.

After dinner a short program was given. Some recitations were given by the children. Music by Don Ruppel on his piano accordion was enjoyed. Last year Don won an A.A. Trophy at the International Music Festival at Berea, Ohio. Mr. Reed Butler gave a reading "Lost Youth," by Longfellow and explained same, which was very interesting. After this some of the younger generation played baseball, some horseshoes and others sat and talked of other days. One man told of visiting his daughter who is a Missionary in Central America and of general conditions down there. It made one thankful to be living in North America.

Clio Park was started by the city fathers in 1939 and is now a beautiful place with many kinds of trees and flower beds. Before the park was built it was just a muddy bottom of a former mill pond. After the mill and dam were gone and the Pine Run Creek was back to its normal size of about four feet deep banks and about twenty feet wide, it took years of patient work to get it well grassed over and pine, cedar, weeping willow and many other kinds of trees grow, where formerly there were only a few large elms along the banks above high water. This goes to show how the hand of man can assist to make a place beautiful and a joy to future generations.

Clio is slightly larger than Stirling with many trees in the residential sections and an unusual lot of climbing roses in full bloom.

From Belleville to Flint and north, fall wheat was very heavy; alfalfa average and timothy where cut much below average. Near Sarnia and across the border much wheat, alfalfa, sugar beets, corn and beans looked fine. Not so many dairy herds as near here. Much corn-on-the-cob is stored in somewhat "open" cribs.

The Immigration Officers at the border expect people to have passports or birth certificates. This applies to both countries.

M. D. Jarell, eminent Trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented

How To Have Hair For A Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist

Offers Written Guarantee

An exclusive interview by Ward Allen

LONDON, ONTARIO (Special) — M. D. Jarell, Director of Jarell Hair Experts of Canada exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview.

"Baldness is unnecessary, costly, and a plague to mankind," says Jarell. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of pre-mature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Jarell method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness — can turn colorless fuzz into healthy, growing hair — can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration To Be Held In Stirling, Ont.

This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Stirling Ontario, Monday only, July 18th, at the Stirling Hotel. Trichologist E. L. Hicks will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9:00 p.m. on Monday only.

There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason For Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness."

A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair. Men, and yes, women too, walk the streets today, completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament — hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," emphasized this expert is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case baldness would be a rarity today!"

Heredity Not Involved

Trichologist Jarell dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness — heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is heredity stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an under-nourished scalp." The purpose of Jarell Hair and Scalp Experts is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. A healthy scalp will grow hair, if it is not already completely bald," assures Jarell.

Is There Hope For The Completely Bald?

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Jarell has collected hundreds of testimonies of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis, and a diagnosis of the disorder. Jarell is quick however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot help. "We strongly advise," says Jarell, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers A Guarantee

"Jarell Hair Experts of Canada offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Jarell. "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call Trichologist E. L. Hicks at the Stirling Hotel in Stirling, Ontario, Monday only from 12 noon to 9:00 p.m. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

A Twice Told Tale

A passer-by paused as he saw a wrecking crew battering at a wall with a huge log. "Are these all skilled workers?" he asked. The boss replied, "No, we don't need skilled workers to wreck a house. Why, I can destroy in a day what it has taken skilled workers a year to build."

It's a grand feeling to know that it is time to build and in this business St. Paul's will prove to be all skilled Monday brought a splendid start for our Building Fund. A $100.00 bill. In the evening we held a meeting of the Official Board and set up a Finance Committee with instructions to open an account at once.

Those elected were: Chairman, Wm. West; Treasurer, R. A. Patterson; Members, J. L. Good, Doug Patterson, Wm. Wilkins and Ed. Heasman.

"Am I shaping my deeds to a well laid plan, Patiently doing the best I can? Or am I a wrecker, who walks the town Content with the job of tearing down?"

Special Services

I wonder, is it possible that our friends in the various lodges and orders who are always welcome to our Churches to go for a Sunday evening service instead of attending the morning service. It seems to me that this would have advantages. First, it would give so many more of our people an opportunity to attend and I believe that the attendance would be big. Secondly, it would not interfere with the established order. In St. Paul's, as in other Churches, the Sacrament of Holy Communion is celebrated four times a year — this, that the service should be of the greater significance. It is also good from the point of view that we are not helping the Churches to rob them of their normal congregation. I would be disturbed if, having a special service at St. Paul's, people absented themselves from their own Church to attend it. This is a suggestion and might be thought upon. I may be wrong, but at the moment I think it is right.

Good-By June

As you vanish over the horizon you've been a bright girl on the whole — though at times you nearly stifled me.

All my five senses have been engaged in the splendours of June. I smell — perhaps "sniff" would be the better word, for certainly at times I have greeted the morning with a sniff. Sniffed, hoping that the sniff would bring on a shower.

I listened. Sometimes I think we should all have received instruction in listening. You have probably noticed how few people listen when you speak to them. At a party in Toronto attended by the upper crust of society a young blood carried out an experiment. Drawing near to his hostess he said, "You are an awful old hag, aren't you?" Gliding off towards another group of her guests, she nodded to him and said, "I think so too."

But June gives us something to which we must listen. My friends won't believe me, but at 5.30 a.m. the birds have been divine.

I look, and how good it has been to see the neighbours' gardens as well as many around town. A lot of hard work represented here, but the reward has been great.

I feel grateful for the many blessings we are privileged to enjoy and remember that "I had no shoes and complained — until I met a man with no feet."

Appointment

In the place of Wm. West who has accepted the Chairmanship of the Finance Committee, Mr. Jack Bush has been elected to the Building Committee.

VICE PRESIDENTS APPOINTED

D. J. Thomson (left) has been appointed vice-president with jurisdiction over all lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. It was announced recently by N. R. Crump, newly-elected president. R. A. Emerson (right), has been appointed vice-president operation and maintenance, succeeding Mr. Thomson. Mr. Thomson is a second generation Canadian Pacific employee and directed the operation and maintenance of the C.P.R.'s 17,019-mile network since October 1st, 1953. Mr. Emerson, a third-generation employee, was chief engineer from 1951 until his new appointment.

The Christian Sunday

Which has nothing to do with the Jewish Sabbath. It is clear from the Bible account of Genesis that the Sabbath was originally "The Sabbath Rest of God."

Later writers, however, were not interested in the Rest of God, the day on which God Refreshed Himself, or more literally, took His Breath. They became interested in the Sabbath as an institution, a part of a greater plan which included the freeing of slaves in the seventh year. Also, the collecting of debts was forbidden in the seventh year and the land was to lie fallow.

Jesus of course found that the Pharisees had made of the Sabbath a burden. He said "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath." Meaning it is for the benefit of the worshipper not for the one who worships, safeguarding men and women from exploitation and guaranteeing them at least one day of rest and relaxation.

The Sabbath was made for man — these are great words. Great liberating words; history making words. Rest, worship and relaxation. These are lawful on Sundays, but entertainment is not. Under this latter head we must put organized sports — the Christian can have nothing to do with them. Have the one and you lose the other.

Since all law is born out of a sense of need, the need in this case being rest, we must guard jealously our Christian Sunday else it will not be long before, owing to the greater and still greater demands for public services, etc., most men and women will be working a seven day week.

Even though fifty million people say a foolish thing, it is still foolish.

Around Our House

(By Bill and Eileen Lovett)

At an auction sale we bought a large antique steel door knocker. Through the oval loop at the base we hang a colorful towel. Another decorator tip for the bathroom: a small glass salad bowl containing several cakes of soap.

Bill paints brightly colored bands around the handles of our garden tools. It makes them easier to spot on the lawn.

And by the way, to remove light rust from tools use a piece of rubber cut from an old tire casing. Ask your garageman.

For Safety's Sake

When attempting to make some electric repair, always turn off the power. Either pull the main switch, unscrew fuse on circuit to repair, or disconnect the cord from the convenience outlet.

Replace blown fuses with new ones of same ampere rating. Don't over-fuse. Never place pennies or tin foil behind dead ones. Use a flashlight so that you have plenty of light to see exactly what you are doing.

Why not put a plywood board as a divider in the middle of your clothes hamper — use one side for soiled white clothes, the other for colored garments.

Junk jewellery is fashionable again. Gather your old broken strands of pearls and other beads, and restring them to make long colorful ropes. Almost any combination is in style. You can use lightweight nylon fish-line leader for string — and if it's stiff enough you won't need to use a needle.

Extra Pot Holders

Before you discard a burned or worn ironing board pad, cut squares from the still-good parts. Bind each square with bias tape. Use for your everyday pot holders.

Travel Trouble Saver

When packing your suitcase, seal a few days' supply of bath powder in an envelope instead of packing a bulky box that may spill. Puncture the envelope to shake powder onto your puff.

A perfectionist, says Bill, is one who takes great pains and gives the same.

Mount Pleasant W.A. Meeting

Mrs. John Morgan was hostess on Tuesday, June 28th for the quarterly meeting of Mount Pleasant W.A. with some twenty-six ladies and several children in attendance.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Clifford Lansing, was introduced by Mrs. B. Sharp. She chose as her theme "The aim of W.A. work in relation to the church."

Mrs. Ken Weaver opened the meeting with a poem and the W.A. theme prayer. Miss Doris Sine read the minutes and the treasurer reported proceeds of a recent sale $82.00. A letter of thanks was read and further plans were made for the bazaar. Mrs. L. McKeown read her report of the recent W.A. Convention at Madoc.

Mrs. Will Potts read the Bible Lesson. Mrs. Ira David read the June W.A. devotional message on the theme "I am the true vine," prepared by Mrs. M. B. Sanford of the British Columbia Conference. Mrs. Will McAdam read a selection. Mrs. Carleton Potts contributed a solo. Mrs. Will Jeffs provided guitar accompaniment for the hymns. Mrs. Eric Shimmers and Mrs. Burton Sharp rendered a duet.

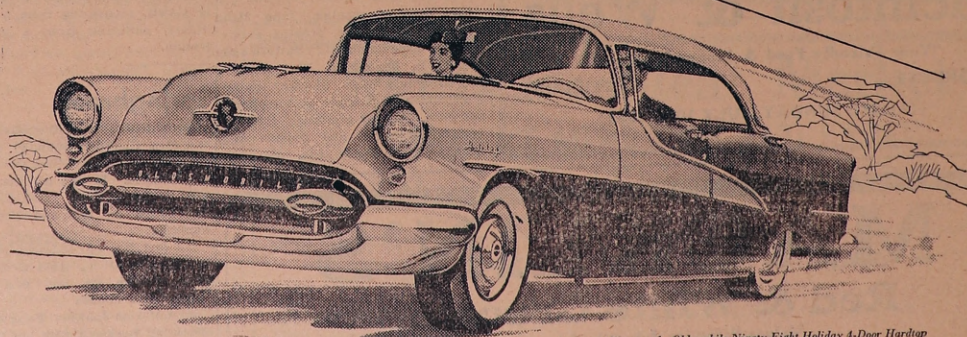

Jean Jeffs gathered the offering which was dedicated by Rev. W. G. Fletcher. The programme was prepared by Mrs. Raymond McConnell and Mrs. Will Jeffs. A vote of thanks was tendered for hospitality, address, report, programme and lunch.

Refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Mrs. J. B. Thompson, of Stirling, was a guest at the W.A. meeting.

Surprise Party

Held For

School Teacher

A surprise party was held for Miss Shirley Douglas, popular school teacher in the Fuller School House on Wednesday evening, June 22nd. About 50 members of the community, parents, children and trustees, gathered to honour Miss Douglas who plans to attend Normal School in the fall.

The first part of the evening was spent playing games, crokinole and checkers.

The gathering was called to order by Mrs. Wallace McTaggart, who requested Miss Douglas to take a seat of honour. Following a sing-song and several readings an address was read by Ruth Wilson as follows:

Dear Miss Douglas:

It is with mingled feelings that we have gathered here tonight, your pupils and friends, to spend a social evening with you, sadness at the thought of losing you as our school teacher, and out of gladness as we remember you are preparing to make another advancement in your career as a school teacher.

Miss Douglas, most of us think of you as one of our girls; as your father received his education in this school and this is where you first learned the 3 R's. So we trust you will always cherish memories of S.S. No. 8, Huntingdon.

We were happy to welcome you back as our teacher and we look over the past year as one of the most successful in our school history. There were no serious accidents, no complaints and splendid co-operation between teacher and pupils. That speaks for itself.

Our Christmas concert was also very complimentary to teacher and pupils. We have appreciated your efforts as we all know a school teacher's life is not always a bed of roses.

You have worked with us and played with us and have found your way into our hearts.

As a small token of our love and affection, we ask you to accept this little gift and as it flashes its way along with you may it help to brighten a little corner of your field of labour wherever it may be and also a little remembrance of your Fuller school days.

Signed, Your Fuller Friends.

The presentation of a flash camera was made by Sharon McCumber and Bonnie Smith.

Miss Douglas in a few well chosen words thanked everyone for the lovely gift, the kind wishes and co-operation during the past year.

The trustees all spoke very highly of Miss Douglas' work and extended best wishes for a successful year at Normal School.

Sandwiches, cookies, ice cream and freshie was served.

Williams — Roy Nuptials Saturday

A very pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized beneath an arch of streamers and flowers at the Rawdon United Church Parsonage on Saturday, July 2nd at 2.00 p.m., with the Rev. W. G. Fletcher, B.A., officiating, when Annie Elfreda (Betty), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Roy, Sixth Concession of Rawdon, became the bride of Ronald Edward Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Williams, of Stirling.

The winsome bride was lovely in a waltz length gown of white nylon brocade with scoop neck and novelty collar, fitted bodice with billowing skirt, a matching pill box hat, and sorsage of red roses and stephanotis.

Miss Joyce Reid, of Bethel, was bridesmaid, wearing a matching dress in yellow nylon sheer with white accessories and a corsage of yellow and mauve roses.

Mr. Larry Davis, of Trenton, was groomsmen for his cousin.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for twenty-five guests at the Stirling Hotel. The bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake, baskets of delphiniums and low bowls of summer blooms.

The bride's mother received her guests in a gown of figured green nylon with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother, wearing aqua printed rayon linen with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Mrs. Williams chose for travelling a dress of turquoise flowered orlon with white accessories. The happy couple left by motor for a holiday at Toronto, Queensville, Lake Simcoe and Delton. On their return they will reside at Stirling.

Out-of-town guests were in attendance from Peterborough, Moira and Trenton.

On Thursday afternoon previous to her marriage Betty was presented with a General Electric steam iron and tea kettle by her fellow employees of the Elaine Footwear Plant, Stirling.

Open Air Concert

The Rylstone Women's Institute held their first open air community concert at Mr. Harry Bourne's picnic grounds, Crowe River Bridge, on Sunday night, July 3rd. Although the concert had not been very widely advertised or been planned for any great time, it was a decided success in spite of the shore notice. There was a good crowd of people, though many of them remained in their cars to listen to the programme, which was as follows:

Words of welcome, from the Institute President, Mrs. Wilfred Spencer. Mrs. Don Kerr, Convener for Community Activities and Public Relations was Mistress of Ceremonies. The programme opened with community singing of favourite hymns, led by Fred Barnum; vocal solo, accompanied by guitar, "Garden for a troubled world," by Laverne Finch; vocal solo, "Jesus Precious Jesus," by Elizabeth Barnum, encore, "My Saviour's Love," marimba solo, "The Sun is Waiting for the Sunrise," by Marshall Sills, of Campbellford, with a march as an encore; several bagpipe and drum selections by Bruce Anderson and Robert Revey, of Havelock; vocal trio, "The Lord is Counting on You," by Agnes McKeown and Patsy and Sherry Spencer, encore "Let the Sun Shine In," marimba solo, "The Rosary" by Marshall Sills and encore; vocal and guitar solo, "The Lord is Counting on you," by Laverne Finch, encore "Jesus Loves Me." The programme closed with the singing of God Save the Queen.

A silver collection was taken up by Messrs. Alfred Barnum and Ernest Sloggett. Mr. Bourne extended a welcome to everyone to come back again next Sunday, July 10th, when another good programme is planned. The grounds have been cleaned up and sawdust spread around to make it more pleasant.

Grand Master's Banquet To Be In Automotive Building At Centennial

Record Influx of Visitors Expected For Historic Masonic Observance In July

Plans are now being made to accommodate 3,000 Masons in the Automotive Building at the C.N.E. Grounds in Toronto on the occasion of the Grand Master's Banquet on the evening of July 15th.

This will be one of the events on the programme, which is being arranged in connection with the Centennial Observance of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons in the Province of Ontario.

The opening of the celebrations will be marked by a monster religious service at the C.N.E. Grandstand on Sunday, July 17th, while sessions of the Grand Lodge, itself, will commence the following morning in the C.N.E. Coliseum and continue for two days.

Masonic dignitaries from all parts of Ontario and Canada, Great Britain and other Commonwealth countries, including Australia, and from practically every state in the United States will converge on Toronto for the observance.

J. P. Maher, Chairman of the Centennial Committee, expressed the appreciation of his committee for "the magnificent co-operation" which has been received in making plans for this important event.

"The importance of this co-operation can be readily appreciated," said Mr. Maher, "when it is remembered that this observance will attract one of the largest influx of visitors in the history of Toronto. By having the use of the C.N.E. and other facilities we will be able to accommodate a much larger gathering than would otherwise have been possible."

He also pointed out that the railway and bus companies were arranging to run special trains and buses to take care of visitors who were not coming by car. So far as the Grand Master's Banquet is concerned, he said, it would be necessary to limit the number to approximately 3,000.

In discussing the historic significance of the occasion, Mr. Maher said that the past hundred years had seen a tremendous growth in the Masonic Order both in the number of lodges and in total membership. While Freemasonry was established in Canada prior to 1792, it was in 1855 when Canada's first Grand Lodge was organized. At that memorable meeting, held in Hamilton on October 10th, approximately forty lodges were represented with a total membership of 1,179 in good standing. At last year's session of the same Grand Lodge, reports showed that there were 592 lodges on the list with a membership of over 130,000.

With the passing of the years, members outside Ontario felt they should have their own Grand Lodges. As a result, the lodges in Quebec formed the Grand Lodge of Quebec and later the Grand Lodge of Manitoba was formed with lodges in the west under its jurisdiction.

Meanwhile Ontario Masons retained the name of the Grand Lodge of Canada for sentimental reasons but, in deference to the Brethren outside their jurisdiction, they added the words: "In the Province of Ontario" to the name which is still retained.

A Few Notes On Drowning

It has been noted as curious that in some cases where victims have been under water for only a short time, death has often occurred in spite of artificial respiration, while in the case of other victims under the water for a longer time, life has been restored. It has also been noted by many physicians that in many drowning cases post mortem examination has failed to discover water in the victim's lungs.

In a series of investigations carried on in 1938 by the late Sir Frederick Banting and associates, in co-operation with the Health League of Canada, the reason for these anomalies was found. In a large proportion of cases of apparent drowning the actual cause of death is not drowning but suffocation. A spasm of the larynx prevents either water or air from entering the lungs, and the result, although there is no water in the lungs, is death, just the same.

The closure of the larynx is in the first place protective. The aperture of the larynx closes when one takes a drink of water, or tea — to prevent the fluid going down the wrong way — into the lungs instead of into the stomach. In the drowning cases, the closing of the larynx has the same objective. But as the victim becomes unconscious, the larynx often fails to open again as it does after you have swallowed your drink of water or tea. So that an essential in the revival of apparently drowned persons is to make sure that the air passages are free. The rhythmic application of artificial respiration should result in the audible passage of air in and out — listen for it. A doctor, of course, can make sure with his stethoscope.

Remember that even a few minutes delay in applying artificial respiration to apparently drowned persons may make all the difference between success and failure — life and death.

Remember that the air passages must be clear.

Remember that there must be no let-up in the continuous, rhythmic application of pressure and release (say 15 times to the minute).

Remember that in suitable cases artificial respiration should be kept up for hours, until success is achieved, or rigor mortis sets in.

Remember above all, that a human being is not necessarily dead because he has been under water for a few minutes. Even if in the water for half an hour or possibly longer, life may still be present. While there's life, there's hope.

WHAT OTHERS SAY!

BACK-SEAT ACTIVITY

(Toronto Saturday Night)

We have often wondered why all the electrical gadgets are concentrated on the dashboards of all but the most exotic motor cars without so much as a wall outlet for the back-seat passenger.

If there were such an outlet, the passenger could do all sorts of useful things — shave, brew coffee, warm the baby's bottle, toast a sandwich, dry hair and bathing suits, clean the upholstery, decontaminate the dog and finish up any last-minute pressing.

With all this going on, the passenger would have no time for the type of back-seat conversation which, we are told, bores the driver into drowsiness or drives him to distraction.

GETTING AHEAD

(Printed Word)

Faced with a son's or daughter's direct question "but why should I go to college?" the serious parent sometimes has trouble finding an adequate answer. Ottawa has come to the rescue. In a recent help-wanted advertisement the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority lists a job as personnel assistant with "preferably university training" at the rate of $4,800 a year. Same paper, same ad, same Seaway Authority also offers three $5,000-a-year jobs as division administrative officers to chaps with "high school graduation or equivalent."

You go to college, my boy, so the government can pay you $200 a year less and save some money.

HOW TO CONTROL TAXATION

Taxes could never have reached the height they are in Canada today had it not been for the system of indirect taxation which enables the government to tax everything we buy or sell, concealing the taxes in the prices of the goods so that the people don't know they are being taxed.

If every tax were payable directly to the government that levies it, there would be far more resistance to the continuous increases, and the politicians would find it politically less profitable to urge the spending of the public's money.

Only the Dominion Government has power to levy indirect taxes in Canada; but the provinces would like to have it also and some of them are making desperate efforts to get it.

Under no circumstances should any province be allowed to have this power. The British North America Act wisely withheld it from them. The tax agreements between the Dominion and the provinces are mere devices to defeat the purposes of the Act, for they contemplate letting the provinces share in these easily collected taxes.

Our governments are now spending more than one-fourth of the nation's earnings, and there is no indication that the politicians are satisfied with that percentage. Certain of them will never cease to urge the spending of more and more of the people's money by the governments as long as the people have any money and are foolish enough to listen to their blandishments.

The most effective way of checking this trend is to insist that every government collect all the taxes it spends and collect it in such a way that the people will know they are being taxed, and for what purpose. —The Rural Scene.

SECRET OF SUCCESSFUL SELLING

The secret of successful selling is to sell your wares for what they are worth. Whether it be houses or lands, your crops or your own services or whatever you are selling always aim to sell for what they are worth to the buyers.

In this way you will have that inner satisfaction of knowing that you have given full value for the prices you received, you will make friends of the buyers and will find them glad to deal with you again.

But if you find yourself in a position to take advantage of the buyer's need, and charge him more, on that account, you may think yourself successful as a salesman, but your success will be short-lived.

If you sell your house or your farm on credit and for more than it is worth, the buyer is sure to have trouble meeting his payments. He will get into arrears, will neglect the property and, in the end you will have to take it back in a run-down condition.

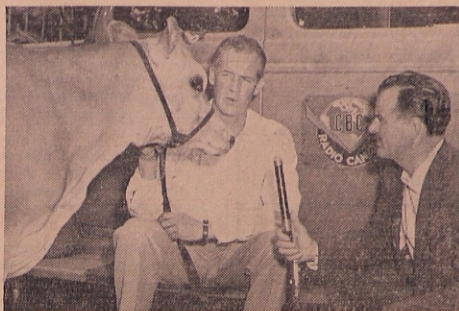

If, as farmers, we find ourselves in a position to combine and charge excessive prices for our products we may soon discover that the world can get along without our products, as we are finding out today in regard to some of our farm products and as Brazil is finding out in regard to her principal crop, coffee.

Brazil is the largest coffee producer in the world. She occupied such an outstanding position as a supplier of coffee that she thought she could set her own price on her coffee and base it on her own financial needs.

She tried it, and succeeded in raising coffee prices to the highest point in history. But her triumph was short-lived. The world decided it could get along without Brazilian coffee. Sales fell off, prices began to tumble. During the last few weeks coffee prices have dropped 40 cents a pound in Canada. Brazil has millions of bags of coffee beans on her hands that she can't sell.

More than that, the high prices she has been receiving during recent years have been accompanied by rising production costs. Now with prices falling as they are, the coffee growers are finding difficulty in getting their costs down. They are worse than they would have been if they had never tried to establish arbitrary prices for their coffee.

Canadian farmers who are clamouring for legislation that will enable them to set their own prices on their products would do well to consider the latest Brazilian venture in that direction. It could happen here. —The Printed Word.

Weed of the Week

POISON IVY

Poison Ivy is a weed that many nature lovers and vacationists have encountered to their sorrow. It may be found almost everywhere according to the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture; in dry and rocky or damp and fertile soil, growing abundantly in many resort areas and on wasteland near beaches.

When the leaves of Poison Ivy are broken or crushed they give off a highly volatile oil which sets up an irritation to the skin, causing blisters, inflammation and a great deal of discomfort.

Poison Ivy is a perennial which may grow in the form of a low shrub or a climbing vine. It has three dark green leaves that are often waxy above and hairy below. The leaves are about four inches in size and may be reddish in colour when young. The flowers are small and greenish white, appearing in May, June and July. They are replaced by clusters of white or grey berries about one-quarter inch in diameter. Birds spread the berries, which contain seeds, to new areas.

The Field Crops Branch advises that Poison Ivy may be controlled by spraying with ammonium sulfamate dissolved in water (one pound to a gallon). Control can also be obtained by spraying 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T or a mixture of both to the actively growing plants. These chemicals should be used at the rate of 2½ ounces of actual acid in 10 gallons of water. Plants should be thoroughly wetted with the mixture and regrowth should be sprayed again in the fall or next July.

Everyone should learn to recognize Poison Ivy in order to avoid contact with it. An entire vacation can be ruined by inadvertently touching even a leaf or two of the plant.

1955 TURNIP GUIDE VALUABLE TO GROWERS

Turnip growers will be interested in a recently revised publication, "1955 Turnip Protection Guide" prepared by the Ontario and Canada Departments of Agriculture. The Guide lists ten essential rules to follow in order to produce high quality turnips.

One important item contained in the publication is the method by which turnip maggots may be controlled. This is the result of many years of intensive research. Also included are directions for preventing water-core by spraying or dusting with commercial borax. The Guide cautions that turnips are very sensitive to 2,4-D and growers must be careful when using weed killers. The use of sized, treated, registered seed is recommended, and most growers are now using Laurentian variety.

Copies of the "1955 Turnip Protection Guide" may be secured from local Agricultural Representatives' offices in each county and district, also from Fieldmen, Fruits and Vegetables, or direct from the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. Further information may also be obtained from bulletin 502 — "Table Turnips" available at the same time from any of the above sources.

CHECK GRANARY FOR WEEVILS BEFORE HARVEST SEASON

Before the harvest season arrives is the time to clean up granaries to make sure that there will be no granary weevils or other stored grain insects to infest the new crop, advises the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Weevils are frequently brought home from the grist mill, the feed store, or in used bags. Even though they may not yet have caused any noticeable damage, if there are any in the granary they will soon increase to the point where they will destroy the kernels and cause the grain to heat, particularly during warm weather.

If old grain is carried over it should be examined carefully for weevils and if any are found the grain should be moved to a storage away from that in which the new crop is to be placed. If this is not possible, then it must be fumigated.

All empty storage should be cleaned thoroughly and sprayed with an insecticide to kill all insects and larvae. Walls, ceilings and floors should be wet to the point of run-off (about one gallon of spray per 1,000 square feet of surface to be covered).

The following materials are recommended:

- (1) 25% lindane wettable powder — 2 lbs. in 5 gallons of water.
- (2) 50% methoxychlor wettable powder — 1 lb. in 5 gallons of water.
- (3) Pyrethrin spray at the manufacturer's directions.

If wettable powder solutions do not spray readily a large whitewash brush may be used to apply them.

A product known as wheat protectant may be used with all types of grain at the time of storage. It is effective against insects but does not affect the grain for feed, seed or milling. One pound may be added to 10 bushels of grain. This product is effective against insects only and has no value as a seed treatment.

The subject of stored grain insects is treated thoroughly in Circular 229, a publication of the Department of Entomology, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Copies may be obtained from offices of local Agricultural Representatives.

PYRENONE WHEAT PROTECTANT RECOMMENDED TO BAR INSECTS

Ontario grain farmers have been reminded that the Ontario Department of Agriculture, after investigations by H. W. Goble, of the Department of Entomology and Zoology, at the Ontario Agricultural College, is recommending the use of Pyrenone Wheat Protectant for the protection of grains in storage against insect damage.

Circular 229, issued by the College, recommends good sanitation practices in preparation for harvest, such as a thorough cleaning of the empty bins, and then spraying of the floors and walls with a residual insecticide to eliminate insects already present and those which may enter later.

After the clean-up and spraying, the circular suggests Pyrenone Wheat Protectant be applied to the grain as it is being stored. The protectant is a combination of two chemicals, pyrethrins and piperonyl butoxide which are unique because they are deadly to insects but are non-toxic to man and animal.

The protectant is applied at the rate of one pound per 10 bushels, and while its name may imply that it is designed primarily for wheat, it also is recommended for use on oats, barley, corn and other small grains as well.

"Prevention is better than cure," the circular states. With careful clean-up and residual sprays on the walls of the granary, plus a protectant added to grain as it goes into the bin, there should be little loss from weevils, the circular adds.

SPRAY OR DUST TO CHECK LATE BLIGHT

Late blight is one of the oldest established potato diseases, having been first reported in America about 1842. This disease caused potato growers in Ontario heavy losses last year. For this reason the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture feels that growers will follow an effective spraying or dusting programme this year in order to prevent a recurrence of the situation. In view of their big investment per acre in seed, labor, fertilizer, overhead and other operating expenses growers cannot afford to neglect their crops for the remainder of the season.

The application of fungicides for the control of late blight is expensive, but economically sound, since it is more costly not to spray or dust. It must be remembered that the fungicide is a preventative agent and not a cure; therefore the producer should think in terms of three periods when arranging his spray or dust program — the early season, mid-season and late season.

The early application of fungicides should begin when the plants are about eight inches in height. At this time there is a good chance that infection has not taken place and any spores that fall on plants after spraying are killed when they come in contact with the chemical.

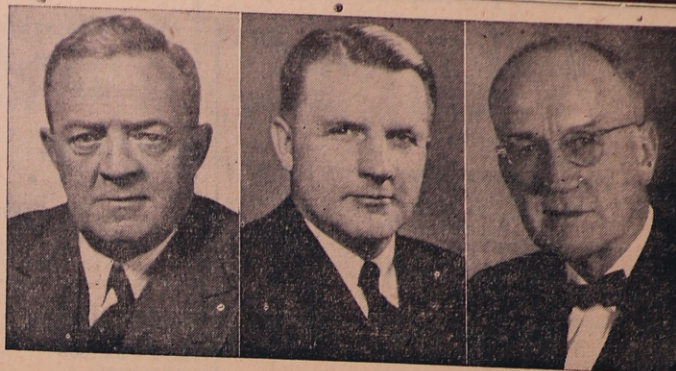

Local weather conditions determine the need of spraying or dusting during the middle part of the growing season. If the weather does not permit development of late blight, the grower has not added much to his expense by applying perhaps two treatments in the first part of the growing season. He has had protection for that period.

The most important period in the late blight control program begins toward the end of August when frequent rains, high humidity and heavy night dews are common. These conditions favor the development and spread of late blight. It is neither safe nor economical to abandon the spraying or dusting programme at this time of year.

New Physical Education Bldg. At The O.A.C.

A gymnasium built in 1891 for an enrolment of 200 students is to be replaced by a new Physical Education Building designed for the needs of the more than 1,000 students of the Ontario Agricultural College, Ontario Veterinary College and Macdonald Institute.

On Saturday, June 25th, with hundreds of O.A.C. alumni present on their annual Alumni Day, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, Fletcher S. Thomas, turned the first sod at the site of the new college arena, and in addition to

NEW C.P.R. PRESIDENT

Walker, Q.C., (right) has retired as chairman of the C.P.R., but will remain as a director of the company. W. A. Mather (left), president since providing adequate facilities for the physical education and recreational activities held on the campus will be used to help accommodate the many new building. It will adjoint the pre-farm groups which annually visit the college.

At the sod-turning ceremony the O.A.C.s President, Dr. J. D. MacLachlan, paid particular tribute to the O.A.C. Alumni Association, the O.A.C. Advisory Board, and Agricultural Minister Thomas. The latter stated that the new building was another step in the long-range plans of the Ontario Department of Agriculture for keeping pace with the needs of Ontario farmers and their families.

Your Property Is Burning

Forest fires have already burned about twice as much of Ontario's northern woodlands as was destroyed during the entire year in both 1953 and 1954. By the early part of this week, at least ninety-five fires had consumed over 100,000 acres, and six or eight were out of control. When it is considered that in 1953, 1,520 fires burned over 58,809 acres and in 1954, 881 fires burned 57,125 acres, the prospect for this year is ominous, indeed. If there have been almost 100 fires by this time of year, it may be assumed that this will be one of the bad fire years, unless it is wetter than usual from now on.

Undoubtedly, improved methods of cutting could reduce the fire hazard. Slash — the limbs and branches cut from trees, which, being dead, are easily ignited — may be handled in ways which lower the danger of spreading fires. More efficient methods of fire-fighting might help to deal with the spring hazard, and in this respect a larger number of access roads would help. On the other hand, such roads also tend to increase the danger by permitting people to get farther into the bush.

Although several of the fires now burning were started by lightning, too many were ignited by careless hunters or campers, and it is suspected that even incendiaries have played a part in setting forests ablaze. This is a terrible indictment of the mentality of people. It is difficult to inculcate the conviction that the trees belong to us. They are our property, and every tree that burns makes every one of us so much the poorer. Not only is there that much less wood for all the myriad uses to which wood is put, but the loss of woodland reduces the revenue from recreation — an ever-increasing item in our national wealth.

It is desirable that our northern forests be open for settlement and available for hunting, fishing and other forms of recreation. But if people cannot be trusted to take care, restrictions rigidly enforced will have to be imposed. Already travel has been cut in some parts of the North. Quebec has also acted to restrict travel. But it is clear that an even closer watch will have to be placed.

Heavy punishment ought to be imposed for setting fires, either by accident or arson. But in addition, a lifelong continuous barrage of propaganda and education on the need for forest protection should be started and maintained among all ages of the population. Eventually, the lesson will become part of the mentality of the public. Ordinary people do not go round setting fire to each others' houses. They will one day cease setting fire to each others' forests. May the day come soon. Toronto Globe & Mail.

EFFECT OF TURNIP SEED SIZE ON YIELD

Turnip seed size has no effect on crop production, says E. T. Goring, Senior Agronomist at the Nappan Experimental Farm, Federal Department of Agriculture in Nova Scotia.

Trials evaluating production from different seed sizes over the past two years show no difference in yield, root growth or percentage germination. The seed was divided into groups of small, medium and large, and it would appear that the smallest seed is as good as the largest. Although the natural reaction of the purchaser of seed is to discriminate against the smaller seed, he should remember that seed size is no indication of its productive ability. Any seed large or small which has been stunted in growth by disease, or was harvested before it was ripe will not be a good buy.

Consumption of Cheese Is Up

Canadians are gradually increasing the use of cheese on their menus. It is now reported to be over 6 pounds per capita. Although a large producer and exporter of high quality cheese for the past 75 years or more, it is only in recent years that Canadians have cultivated a greater appreciation of cheese as an important protein food. October is cheese festival month and the Dairy Farmers of Canada in a press bulletin gave the following statement:

"Modern nutritionists know a great many reasons for the importance of cheese in human nutrition. First, and foremost, it is the most highly concentrated of all protein foods and one of the most easily digested. In fact, experiments have shown that 90-99 percent of all cheese is digested. Hence cheese is considered to be among the best protein foods for young children. Milk proteins, fat, the fat-soluble vitamins and milk minerals are the nutrients which make cheese so valuable in the daily diet."

Twenty-Seven Lodges Participate In Parade — Outstanding Addresses Heard

County Director William Phillips and County Master Nelson Howard, mounted on their steeds, were immediately followed on foot by an attractively attired majorette, Miss Fredine Smith, of Belleville, and the smart uniformed Community Band of Madoc, under bandmaster William Aylsworth.

Veteran Members

Four veteran Orangemen seen were John Moffatt, who joined Marmora L.O.L. 319 63 years ago and who is an active member of Nickle L.O.L. 285; Ed. Vincent of Beulah L.O.L. 435 who looks back over a membership of 62 years; Ed. Blakely, of Eldorado 517, a member for 65 years; and Thomas Webb of Springbrook L.O.L. 442 approaching his 86th birthday whose membership extends well over 60 years.

At the conclusion of the parade County Master Howard presided for some speeches.

Past County Master W. J. Cottrell said that Orangism is worthy of perpetration in each generation. As we have received so should we impart to those who come after us.

Rt. Wor. Bro. F. Bateman

Right Wor. Bro. Fred Bateman, Past Grand Master of Ontario East, relayed the good wishes of the sitting Grand Master. He voiced his personal conviction that no fraternal association had so stood the test of time. He referred to the centennial which the Orange Order in Ontario will be observing in 1960.

Wor. Bro. Rev. H. E. Beare, Springbrook, Deputy Grand Chaplain of Ontario East, spoke on "What is Orangism?" He said it is an organization with its foundations on the Christian faith and philosophy. It supports and encourages on the part of each individual whom it embraces, loyalty to the ruling sovereign and encourages citizens to be law abiding.

Rev. F. C. Beazer, Grand Chaplain of Ontario East, next speaker, affirmed that the Orange Order is by no means dead. Protestantism is needed in the Dominion of Canada now as it never was.

Protestants should be engaged as teachers in the public schools. Orangemen should have something to say about immigration was another point which was stressed by the speaker. The open Bible, he continued is the Orangeman's grand standby. He recommended also the reading of the literature available to protestants.

Wor. Bro. Roscoe Robson, MPP for Hastings East, referred to the day as being the Orangeman's Day. He was interested to witness the growth in the juvenile Orange movement. He commended his brethren for turning out in such goodly numbers and ensuring a good commemoration.

The final speaker was Bro. Rev. John McMurray, Foxboro, who spoke on the Christ of the Bible and the Christ of the ages.

The day's programme concluded with a dance.

Among Speakers At Orange Celebration At Frankford

Only minor damage resulted from a collision between two small trucks at the four corners in the centre of the village about six o'clock Tuesday evening. Douglas Pyear was proceeding west on Front St. and crashed into the side of a truck owned by H. Clemens, of Deloro, at the intersection of North and Front Streets.

According to Mr. Pyear, he was blinded by the sun and failed to see the Clemens truck, which was making a left-hand turn onto Front St., in time to avoid a collision. Police Chief S. Eggleton investigated.

Helen: "You say you saw the wedding? Who gave the bride away?" Harold: "Nobody said a word."

Chicken House And 450 Capons Destroyed By Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a chicken house located on the property of John Klompf, on the outskirts of this village on Saturday night. Four hundred and fifty capons, averaging 5 to 6 lbs apiece and ready for marketing, were destroyed in the blaze. Fortunately some one hundred pullets had been moved from the building on Saturday afternoon.

The local Fire Brigade, under Fire Chief R. E. Fox, made a fast run to the scene, but the blaze had such a start on their arrival that the building was doomed. For two hours they fought the blaze before it was finally extinguished.

The fire originated inside the building and had gained considerable headway before the alarm was given. Some insurance was carried on the building.

4-H Club Week

More than 3,000 4-H club members from 22 Ontario Counties visited the Ontario Agricultural College during 4-H Club Week July 5th to 7th.

Under the guidance of the County Agricultural Representative or his Assistant, the members saw the latest agricultural methods. From tractor and safety demonstrations they learned of the need for following safety precautions in the operation of modern farm machinery. Special programmes were staged for the livestock clubs, field crop clubs, potato clubs, forestry clubs, tractor clubs, and conservation clubs.

Girls attended discussions by college authorities on gardening and the preparation of vegetables for the freezer. A tour of Macdonald Institute brought them up to date with the latest in homemaking practices.

St. Paul's Woman's Association Guests At "Happy Hollow" Oak Lake

St. Paul's United Church Woman's Association held their July meeting on Tuesday of last week at Oak Lake at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Elliott with a large attendance of members and visitors.

President, Mrs. Warren, welcomed everyone and opened the meeting with the theme song and repeating the Mary Stewart Collect, followed by prayer.

The various secretaries gave their reports and the Parsonage Convener, Mrs. Fraser, reported a new chair and hassock had been purchased for the Parsonage. The calling committee for July and August will be Mrs. J. B. Thompson and Mrs. B. Way.

The annual bazaar was planned and will be held in November.

The programme conveners Mrs. Good and Mrs. A. Wells, opened their programme with a poem "Seeing God," read by Mrs. Good. Hymn 502 was sung. The Scripture Lesson, taken from Proverbs, was read by Mrs. Gordon Bailey and Mrs. Wells led in prayer. Several teen-age girls favoured with vocal music, assisted by Mrs. B. Glendinning.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. A. Packman, who was introduced by Mrs. Roy Duffin. She took as her subject, "The Art of Living." Everyone enjoyed this wonderful talk and in a very capable manner Mrs. Morris Rose voiced the thanks of the W.A. to Mrs. Packman, the hostess, conveners and all who had contributed in any way to make the afternoon a profitable and pleasant one.

Vandals At Work At Playground

The News-Argus has been asked by Rotary Club officials to draw the attention of parents to the fact that several teen-age boys have been destroying equipment placed at the local recreational centre for use of small boys and girls by the Stirling Rotary Club. During the day Mr. and Mrs. J. Irish are present to supervise the games and handicraft work, but it is in the evening that the older boys have been carrying on their depredations.

The Rotary Club has done and is doing a great work for the younger children in this sphere and it would be too bad to have it discontinued because of the actions of a few older boys, whose names are known. The Rotary Club officials are therefore appealing to the parents to see that this equipment is not used in the absence of the supervisors. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

Mrs. Gilbert Finkle Is In Charge of Races — Good Programme Was Presented

On Thursday, July 7th, twenty-seven ladies and fifty children gathered at River Valley School House for the Children's Day meeting.

Mrs. Roy Bush presided and dealt with the usual opening exercises and considerable business. Mrs. Thos. Hanna read several thank you messages. The National Anthem was sung in honour of Dominion Day. Mrs. P. De Bruyn, a new resident in the community, was welcomed.

Plans were made for a sale at Hoard's in August. All members in arrears are asked to pay their dues at the August meeting. Mrs. George Heasman will be hostess and the Girl's Club will give a demonstration.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen brought a brief message from Abbot's Leigh W.I. Owing to lack of time the report of the District Delegate was laid over to a future date.

Mrs. Ed. Heasman presided over the programme. All sang "O Canada." Recitations were given by Donnie Carr, Nancy Finkle and Allan Carr. Dennis Heasman and Marena Heasman sang a duet. Helen Morrow, Cheryl Utman, Marilyn Conley and Sharon Scott each contributed a piano solo. Elaine Vandervoort and Peter Heasman each gave a vocal solo. Linda Ann Morrow and Betty Hanna gave a duet. Five children, Emmy, Jane and Louise Zuidema and Truus and Margaret De Bruyn, sang a Dutch hymn.

Races Enjoyed

Mrs. Gilbert Finkle conducted the races which followed on the school lawn.

The pre-school children enjoyed a candy scramble and a race and each received a treat.

A fish pond was conducted in the school and each child received a token.

The President expressed thanks to conveners, children and lunch committee, followed by the Institute Grace.

Refreshments were served and ice cream cones and freshies were provided for everyone.

The children had a delightful afternoon.

River Valley 4-H Club

The second meeting of the River Valley "Sunshine Susies Garden Club" was held in the River Valley School House on June 29th. The roll call, "One vegetable in my garden which requires thinning" was answered by the eight members present. Marilyn Reid was appointed vice-president and acted in the absence of the regular president.

The Home Economist, Miss Irvine, was the special guest at the meeting. She had previously inspected each garden and explained at the meeting some work to be done on the project and also outlined Achievement Day.

The discussion topics were thinning, transplanting, common weeds and insects in the gardens and the control of these by insecticides.

Miss Irvine led in a discussion on Canada's Food Rules and showed the importance of vegetables in the diet. The home assignment was given and the meeting closed with the singing of the Queen.

Presentation To Ont. Grand Lodge At The Centennial

Symbolic of Esteem and Loyalty of Toronto Masons
— Many Visitors To Attend

A presentation, symbolic of the esteem and loyalty of the Masonic lodges of the four Toronto districts, will be made to the Ontario Grand Lodge upon the occasion of its centennial observance in Toronto on July 17th, 18th and 19th.

Taking the form of a set of drapes and covers, suitably embroidered and bearing the dates 1855 and 1955, the gift will be made through the medium of the Past Masters' Association and the four District Deputy Grand Masters at a special ceremony.

J. P. Maher, of Toronto, Chairman of the Centennial Committee, said that the ensemble would comprise four pieces. The altar drape will be garter blue velvet, trimmed with gold braid and gold bullion fringe with gold tassels. One face will bear an embroidered reproduction of the Grand Seal of the Grand Lodge in gold and other appropriate colours. The cover for the Grand Master's table will be of the same material. The name "The Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario" in ribbon scroll will be featured on the front drop of the cover. Beneath the name will be the compasses extended upon a segment of a circle enclosing a triangle upon an "oval irradiated." The stole for the pedestal of the Senior Grand Warden will bear the jewel and that of the Junior Grand Warden, the plumb rule.

The dates 1855 and 1955, will be embroidered on the lower left and right corners respectively of all four pieces, which will be in their places when the Grand Lodge assembles. The formal presentation will be made by four Worshipful Masters of Lodges, one from each Toronto Masonic District.

Mr. Maher announced that several thousand Freemasons will be converging on Toronto for the historic and colourful centennial observance of the Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario. A monster rally for an impressive religious service at the C.N.E. Grandstand on Sunday, July 17th, will mark the start of the observance. Sessions of the Grand Lodge, itself, will commence in the Coliseum at the Exhibition on the morning of the 18th and will continue for two days. Plans are being made to accommodate some 3,000 Masons in the Automotive Building at the C.N.E. for the Grand Master's Banquet on the evening of July 18th.

Mr. Maher stated that for the past seventeen years, owing to lack of accommodation in other Ontario centres, the four Toronto Masonic Districts had been hosts to the Grand Lodge at its annual communication and, each year, the Past Masters' Association had formed the Committee on Arrangements.

In referring to the influx of visitors to Toronto for the Centennial event, Mr. Maher said that every Grand Lodge in Canada, including Newfoundland, would be represented. In addition there would be large delegations of Brethren from Great Britain and other Commonwealth countries, while almost every Grand Lodge in the United States as far west as California, Washington and Oregon, representing 51 million Masons, would be sending delegates.

Among the many distinguished guests will be R.W. Bro. Major Gen. Sir Allan Adair, Bt., C.B., D.S.O., M.C., Assistant Grand Master, and Lady Adair, from England. R.W. Bro. Sir Sydney A. White, the Grand Secretary, is also coming from England. The following are included among the Scottish visitors: M.W. Bro. The Rt. Hon. Lord Macdonald, M.B.E., T.D., L.L., J.P., M.A., Grand Master Mason; R.W. Bro. The Rt. Hon. The Earl of Eglinton and Winton, D.L., T.D., B.A., Deputy Grand Master; and R.W. Bro. Dr. Alexander F. Buchan, M.B.E., B.Sc., Ph.D., F.R.S.E., Grand Secretary. R.W. Bro. Dr. J. L. Rossiter, Past Deputy Grand Master, is coming from Western Australia, and R.W. Bro. Neil F. Hopkins, Senior Grand Warden, and his wife, are coming from South Australia.

Tweed Police Chief Resigns

Tweed Municipal Council deferred decision on the resignation of Police Chief Don Matheson, which was tendered at Council meeting last week. The resignation, to become effective in six weeks' time, will be discussed at the next meeting of Council.

The Chief said that the job was becoming too much for one man. "I don't have any free time," he said, "and no man can stand that kind of thing indefinitely."

Mrs. E. West Addresses I.O.D.E.

The Hon. J. R. Cooke Chapter of the I.O.D.E. met at the home of Mrs. Claire West with 29 members present, with the Regent, Mrs. Carl Potter, presiding. The prayer of the Order was repeated and the flag brought forward. The Regent declared the meeting open for any business matters to be dealt with. Reports were received from the Secretary, Treasurer and Echoe Secretary.

A committee was appointed by the Regent to be responsible for all arrangements for the September banquet when the Order will be host to the Provincial President, Miss Jeanne Knapman and several visiting Chapters.

Three new members were welcomed into the Order, Mrs. Bruce Glendinning, Miss Vera Stapley and Mrs. Olive White. This portion of the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Earl Luery presented a well composed paper on "Summer," which was much enjoyed by the members.

Guest Speaker
Mrs. Carl Potter introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Elmer West, better known as "Betty," who received a warm welcome by the members. Betty is a past member of the Order.

Elmer and Betty, with their two children, live at Fort Churchill, Man., where Elmer is assigned to the Department of Transport. There are about 2,000 people living there consisting of Canadian and American army and air force personnel; Eskimos and Indians. The population is largest in winter, as they are transferred there for exercises as it is a testing base.

The homes are built in two blocks, containing four suites each, furnished alike and very modern.

The army has a general store there with a commissary. Several other stores are located there including Eaton's Hudson Bay. There is a bank, nice churches and schools and a radio station. The base is about 3 miles from the town of Churchill with daily bus service and plenty of taxis which you may enjoy for $5.00 a trip. Buses are used to commute the small children to school in the zero weather.

The temperature drops to 45 and 50 degrees below zero in the winter and goes as high as 80 degrees in the summer. When the season changes they have intense blizzards and the fog will raise in about 10 minutes, making it very dangerous for aircraft landing. Lights are supplied by diesel power and there is a water system and sewers. All kinds of wild flowers bloom. There is very little grass and a few evergreens and scrub trees.

The Girl Guides and Boy Scouts are very active and send many members to summer camps. Baseball is enjoyed, but in the winter there is much more activity such as hockey, curling, and broomball. A carnival is enjoyed.

The sunsets are beyond description. They are so beautiful. In the summer the daylight lasts from 1.00 a.m. until 11.30 p.m. and is never dark in between.

Mrs. West and her two children are visiting her mother, Mrs. R. Finkle and expects to return to Fort Churchill in about two months.

The Regent, Mrs. Potter, thanked Mrs. West for her interesting description of her far away home. The Order joins in wishing Betty and her children a safe journey home.

The committee, consisting of Mrs. Don Rodgers, Mrs. Lorne Wilson, Mrs. Carl Potter and the hostess, served a delightful lunch of ice cream and cake. Mrs. Bill Morton moved a vote of thanks.

M. D. Jarell, eminent Trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented

How To Have Hair For A Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist Offers Written Guarantee

An exclusive interview by Ward Allen

LONDON, ONTARIO (Special) — M. D. Jarell, Director of Jarell Hair Experts of Canada exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview.

"Baldness is unnecessary, costly, and a plague to mankind," says Jarell. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of pre-mature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Jarell method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness — can turn colorless fuzz into healthy, growing hair — can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration To Be Held In Stirling, Ont.

This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Stirling, Ontario, Monday only, July 18th, at the Stirling Hotel. Trichologist E. L. Hicks will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9.00 p.m. on Monday only.

There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason For Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair."

Men, and yes, women too, walk the streets today, completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament — hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," emphasized this expert is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case baldness would be a rarity today!"

Heredity Not Involved

Trichologist Jarell dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness — heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is heredity stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an under-nourished scalp." The purpose of Jarell Hair and Scalp Experts is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. A healthy scalp will grow hair, if it is not already completely bald," assures Jarell.

Is There Hope For The Completely Bald?

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Jarell has collected hundreds of testimonies of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis, and a diagnosis of the disorder. Jarell is quick however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot help. "We strongly advise," says Jarell, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers A Guarantee

"Jarell Hair Experts of Canada offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Jarell. "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call Trichologist E. L. Hicks at the Stirling Hotel in Stirling, Ontario. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

Enlightened
Self-Interest

Judging by what one hears from time to time, very few of us know what is good for us. Of course, we all think we know what is good for the other fellow and the other fellow thinks he knows what is good for us. It is, however, remarkable how at times we seem to work against our own best interests.

That happened when, after Jesus had cast a devil out of a man at Gadara. The story says that the people "besought him to depart out of their coasts."

A remarkable thing. One would suppose that they ask him to stay since the presence of mad men would render life unsafe. But no, they wanted him to go away.

It is surely in our own interests that we do all we possibly can to bring Jesus into the life of our day. There are many ways in which we can do this. There are many ways in which the majority of our people are doing this. I want to name only one — Christian Appreciation and Courtesy.

Sometimes I wonder whether we do appreciate one another. I think we do. We may belong to different churches, but do we appreciate that those who are not our own persuasion or church are members of the family of God and are helping to keep Jesus with us today?

There is something wonderfully gracious in Christianity and because of it we should all pray and work toward the building up of all Christian Churches. This is the only answer we have to the destructive forces in the world of today.

Socialism in A
Silk Hat

In politics as in religion — history reveals that the liberal after a time tends towards conservatism and always this process is followed by a upsurging of a new form of liberalism, so as time passes the liberal becomes the conservative. We should expect that and no doubt it is a good thing in some ways. The process, however, seems to be getting into reverse. The more orthodox of the churches are thinking in terms of a New Evangelism and many of the more conservative parties in politics today are pinching the socialist's thunder and working out a socialist programme. Maybe this is another way of following the line of enlightened self-interest. I do not think we should be afraid of it, since it is likely to mean the combination of the enlightened mind and the evangelical temper — certainly, so far as religion is concerned we need the modern mind and the evangelical spirit.

A man once said to me — "God can do without your intellect." I made the only reply that I could think of — "He certainly can. But He can do without my ignorance as well."

Or to put it in story form. A man said to his son — "I am worried about you son, where will you be when I am gone?" "Gee Dad," replied the boy, "don't worry about me, the question is where will you be?"

A trip into the bush at this time brings back with considerable force the passing of Hazel. Out at Salmon Lake behind Earl Eggleston's cottage, Hazel made a way for herself. The surprising thing is that she took the biggest trees with her and left the little fellows standing. The reason for this, so Margaret says, is that the little fellows standing. The reason as the Scriptures has it — "How are the mighty fallen."

Ex-Mayor Speaks

On Sunday morning, seeing Mr. Jack Naylor, late Mayor of Oshawa in the congregation at St. Paul's, the minister invited him to speak a word on behalf of Albert College. Mr. Naylor is an old boy of the college, at present engaged in General Motors at Oshawa.

Mr. Naylor paid a wonderful tribute to his old school and must have caused many to feel that a fine piece of work had been done in turning out men such as he.

Union Services

On Sunday next, July 17th and the three following Sundays, services for St. Andrew's and St. Paul's will be held jointly in St. Paul's Church at 11.00 a.m. Bible Class will meet at the Parsonage and St. Andrew's friends will be warmly welcomed to this Adult Class and to the Church Services. The minister of St. Paul's will be glad to render whatever service of a pastoral nature that may be desired to St. Andrew's during the absence of Rev. W. H. V. Walker on holiday.

Why Not One Church?

Why not one political party?

Not A Good Idea

Sunday evening services for special occasions would not be a good idea. It would interfere with others who have an evening service. How about an afternoon service.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

We have noticed that people who do nothing but sit around in the heat and complain about it, suffer more than do people who keep their minds, if not bodies otherwise pre-occupied. A good deal of suffering in heat waves is more mental than physical.

Holloway

Ralph Townsend, Raymond Emerson and Lyle Reide are spending this week at Camp Quin-Mo-Lac, on Moira Lake.

Sorry to report Mrs. James Reid at the time of writing seriously ill in the Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snider and baby, of Belleville, were Monday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Snider.

A very impressive service was held on Sunday morning at Holloway United Church when Douglas Townsend, Don McMullen, Ronald Denyes and John Emerson were received into church membership by Rev. Robert Darke, after which a Communion Service was held. During the service Mrs. Fred Wellman and Miss Lois McMullen rendered a lovely duet.

Successful Strawberry Social

A very successful strawberry and ice cream social was held recently in the dining hall at Holloway Church. A large crowd attended and enjoyed sandwiches, pickles, celery, cake, strawberries and ice cream and coffee. Afterwards all were seated in the church and a programme was much enjoyed and those who helped to make this part a success were Mrs. Harold West, Shirley and Ray Stevens, Gwen Wilson, Heather Rodgers, X. P. Mayhew, Miss Thompson with her accompanist and Douglas Asselstine, of Belleville. To these people the committee expresses its thanks.

Bid Farewell

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barlow and family, of Corbyville; Mr. and Mrs. Murney Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds and family, of Foxboro; Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Reid and family, of Holloway, and Sarah and Arthur Wilson, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wilson to bid farewell to Donald on the eve of his departure for Buenos Aires, Argentine, South America, where he will spend the next six months studying the Spanish language and preparing for his work with S.G.M. at Santiago, Chile, for the next three years. MRS. C. W. MOORE

Ewald -- Prest Nuptials

A wedding of interest took place in Beulah United Church, Ivanhoe, on Saturday, July 2nd, at 2 p.m. when Marjorie Elva, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Prest, was united in marriage in a double ring ceremony, to Wallace William Ewald, of Belleville, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Ewald, of Kitchener. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. John E. Glover, of Marmora. Candelabra with tall white candles, white hydrangea and blue delphiniums adorned the church.

Mrs. Gerald Livingstone, of Corbyville, rendered traditional wedding music, and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Milton Shaw, who sang before the ceremony "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace and net over satin with an accordion pleated skirt and a fitted bodice with scoop-neckline, clustered with Florentine daisy petals and studded with tiny rhinestones. Her fingertip embroidered tulle illusion veil was caught to a coronet trimmed with opal sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of Madonna lilies, and toast colored orchids.

Mrs. Grant Brett, of Madoc, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, gowned in floor-length strapless turquoise embroidered nylon sheer and net over taffeta with matching bolero and headdress. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses and white 'mums.

Misses Susan Riley, of Belleville, and Margaret Coulter, Tweed, cousins of the bride, were dainty flower girls in knee-length flocked orchid organdy over net and taffeta with matching headdresses. They carried nosegays of yellow roses and mauve 'mums.

Mr. Elgin Oram, of Belleville, was groomsmen and the ushers were Mr. Robert Henry, London, Ont., cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Grant Brett, Madoc, brother-in-law of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received, wearing open blue crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of pale yellow gardenias. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother in navy crepe with navy and pink accessories and corsage of white gardenias. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Kitchener, was in black crepe with corsage of white gardenias.

Seventy guests enjoyed a delicious buffet luncheon served by friends of the bride, Mrs. A. Creaser, Mrs. Elgin Oram, Miss Evelyn Olmstead, Miss Ellen Mitz, Miss Eunice Thomlinson and Miss Margaret Wright.

For their wedding trip to Ottawa and points east, the bride chose a mushroom linen suit with tan and white accessories, with corsage of toast orchids. Upon their return they will reside at 241 George Street, Belleville.

Mr. Ewald is teaching on the staff at the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School.

Guests were present from Kitchener, London, Niagara Falls, Ontario, Ivanhoe, Belleville, Tweed, Holloway, Corbyville, Frankford, Hillside, Madoc and Springbrook.

Boy's Camp Well Attended At Quin-Mo-Lac

Quin-Mo-Lac Boys' Camp on Moira Lake, near Madoc, recently closed and the girls and their leaders took over the grounds. It was the largest and in some ways, the best camp ever held. It was, indeed, a week to live in the memory of every one of the 120 boys present and of the nearly 30 leaders also.

There were boys present from a wide area, representing United Church groups all the way from Carleton Place to Pickering. The largest number came from Peterborough, followed by Trenton, Campbellford, Oshawa, Grafton, Napanee and a large number of other communities.

In spite of the fact that 20 more boys attended than first planned it was necessary to refuse the registration of at least 50 more boys. To meet this problem and others, we hope to be able to split the camp into two groups next year, one for juniors and the other for intermediates, to be held possibly on succeeding weeks.

The camp was under the able leadership of Rev. Lloyd Shorten, of Peterborough, as Director, assisted by Wayne Tompkins. Clayton Greatrix was Business Manager. Rev. Kenneth Crawford had charge of Bible Study. Rev. Howard Beare, of Crafts, and Donald Williams was Boys' Coun-seller. In addition to these there were six senior leaders who were ministers and thirteen junior leaders who assisted in cabin supervision, sports and other ways. One of these, Glenn Stinson, of Tamworth, had been present at every Boys' Camp for ten years. His cabin, No. 5, was awarded the title of best all-round cabin.

Douglas Valsey, Conference Boys' Work Counsellor, of Peterborough, had charge of the very fine program of sports, baseball, volley balls, border ball, horseshoes and field sports. Competition was very keen in the various tournaments held. J. Arthur, of Wooler, was chosen Chief Camper on the last day of camp and he was also judged Senior Sports Champion. Garfield Bradshaw, of Grafton, was declared Junior Sports Champion.

But sports were not overemphasized, more time was given to worship. Before breakfast there was Morning Watch and afterward there was Morning Worship in the beautiful outdoor chapel in the trees. Bible Study had for its theme "Worship the Lord." As the busy day came near to a close Evening Vespers were held.

Considerable interest was shown in crafts and other projects. The boys had a choice of life saving, learning to swim, woodcraft, campcraft, leathercraft, archery, forestry or amateur photography. Don Pringle, not only had charge of the project but he was camp lifesaver as he is at the pool in Belleville. One evening he demonstrated for the whole camp the Nielson method of artificial respiration. James Bryson looked after first-aid in an able manner. One of the most popular persons present was the cook, Hugh Joseph Brown, of Albert College, and he was assisted by his son David.

The boys have gone but Quin-Mo-Lac Campsite will be filled by one camp after another till Labor Day.

Those in attendance from the Stirling area were: Senior Leaders, Rev. Howard Beare, of Springbrook, and Rev. W. G. Fletcher, of Stirling; Junior Leader, Denton Burkitt, of Springbrook; Boys, Edward Fleming and Garry Mason, of Springbrook; Joe Hagerman, of Harold; Glenn Heagle and Harold Searles, of Minto; Hugh Hoard and Tommy Thompson, of Hoard's Station; Lyle Reid, Raymond Emerson, Robert and Roy Sills, of Holloway, and Allen Fletcher, of Stirling.

Deloro Smelting To Build Half Million Dollar Plant East of Belleville

A new half-million dollar alloy casting plant for the manufacture of heat resistant metals required for the construction of jet aircraft engines was scheduled to get underway this week on No. 2 Highway, just east of the city of Belleville.

The new plant, to be built by the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company of Deloro has an expected completion date of late this year with production expected to commence early in 1956.

The factory will employ slightly in excess of 200 workers, about half of whom will be women. Office staff will be additional to this force.

Site of the new plant is south of No. 2 Highway on part of the farm owned by George R. Ellis. Property purchased by the Deloro firm for construction of their new plant consists of approximately 13 acres. It has a highway frontage of about 600 feet and runs south to the Bay of Quinte.

According to Mr. R. G. Walsh, of Deloro, who will be general manager of the plant, the new factory will have a floor area of about 60,000 feet with an additional 10,000 feet for office space, lockers and staff accommodation. Front of the one-storey structure will be of brick and glass construction while concrete block will form the walls of the main factory. The building will be in the form of a T the top of the T forming the office accommodation and facing the highway.

General contractors for the construction are the Pigot Construction Company of Toronto.

In Making
For Years

Plans for the new plant have been in the making by the Deloro firm for several years according to Mr. Walsh but have been delayed by certain developments at the parent factory at Deloro.

Work of the new plant is now being carried on at Deloro but when the new factory swings into operation early in the new year a labor force of about 200 persons at Deloro will be given the opportunity to transfer to Belleville.

New development at Deloro will take over factory space presently used by the plant to be transferred to Belleville and ultimately the Deloro labor force will be built back up to its present 540 persons.

Weekly Newspapers Lauded by Liberty

Canada's 963 weekly newspapers, with a combined circulation of 2,475,140, are the back-bone of Canadian country life according to the current July issue of Liberty magazine.

Appearing under the title "Canada's Cracker-Barrel Oracles," this Liberty study by former Brampton Peel Gazette reporter Robt. Webb finds that "editors of weekly newspapers have, naturally, advanced from the frontier-days pistol-in-one hand, pen-in-the-other crusader whose hand-operated press turned out stinging editorials. But that editorial spirit of poking gentle fun at local celebrities, getting public support for community endeavors, and whipping civic officials into action, hasn't yet been tossed in the hell-box."

A survey made among weekly newspaper editors disclosed some interesting facts. According to Liberty, 95% have served as president of their local Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade; 45% have been mayor or reeve or held other high public office in their community; 91% work an average of 55 hours weekly; 23% reported personal incomes of over $5,000 annually; and many of them are university graduates.

What is the weekly newspaper's most widely-read feature? Cec Hacker, editor-publisher of the Abbotsford, B.C. News, says it's the Livestock Sale Column of the classified page, while George Murray, owner of the 3,100 circulation Pictou, N.S. Advocate, says his women's column, Ann Advocate Says, is his paper's most widely read page. It's written by his wife, who was voted "Mrs. Weekly Editor," at the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association's annual convention last year.

But if the editors of Canada's weekly newspapers disagree on what constitutes their most widely read feature, they are all in accord with Mrs. Helen (Corky) McCorquandale, editor of Alberta's High River Times, who defines the aim of the weekly newspaper in this fashion.

"The principle by which most papers, small or great, seem to be guided is to make the community a happy, congenial, law-abiding place; to emphasize the good rather than the bad; and to be as accurate as humanly possible in matters of moment — especially the middle initial of a faithful correspondent."

"Canada's Cracker-Barrel Oracles" in the current July issue of Liberty is a very special salute to a very special Canadian enterprise — the weekly newspaper — and the men responsible for them, their editors.

"There are few millionaires among the weekly editors and publishers," Bill Cranston, of Midland, has stated. "But there are few men and women who so well deserve the label 'free enterpriser' with a special emphasis on 'enterprise'."

The History of Shirt Making

The story of the rise and progress of shirt making in Londonderry, Northern Ireland, is romantic. From a one-man business it grew into a world-wide trade. From the making of a dozen shirts in the chance hope of selling them in Glasgow the enterprise expanded into Londonderry's staple industry, with an annual production of 1,030,000 dozen shirts and 59,000 dozen pyjamas valued at £9,314,000. It has almost 40 factories, which employ nearly 8,000 workers, many of whom, although female, are the main support of their homes.

William Scott, the founder of the Londonderry shirt trade, was born at Balloughry, Londonderry, in 1765. He lived to be 93 and was an elder of a Presbyterian Church for 70 years and for many years superintendent of a Sabbath School. He was apprenticed to the weaving trade in the city at a time when weaving was done entirely by hand looms. He soon began his own business, buying material and selling his own webs. He eventually became a master weaver and travelled to Glasgow to sell his webs to William Gourlie & Son, merchants, of 8 South Frederick Street. The home industry of sprigging — a type of embroidery — which had been carried on by women expert in needlework, had long flourished in Londonderry and district, but in the first quarter of the nineteenth century it began to languish. The women engaged in it made with their own hands the woolen and cotton shirts worn by their menfolk, and when the wearing of displayed shirt fronts came into fashion William Scott conceived the idea of using these women to make linen breasted shirts. From this idea was born the shirt trade of Londonderry.

Drive To Arrive Alive

There's a lot of good common sense packed into that short sentence, particularly with traffic accidents standing third only to heart disease and cancer as cause of death in Canada.

The Ontario Safety League's General Manager, W. B. G. Reynolds, recently made good sense when he said that when a driver starts out on a motor trip his goal is to get where he's going. "His other more important goal should be to get there healthy and happy so that he can have fun. It would certainly defeat his purpose if careless driving necessitated a detour to the hospital — or worse!"

What kind of driving, then, should he adopt to get him to his destination alive — and in good health and spirits?

To begin with it should be courteous driving. The courteous driver is pleasantly relaxed, gives other drivers a break and is always prepared to yield the right of way to prevent accidents. His behavior is in sharp contrast to that of the selfish Hurry Bug who drives along the road with no thought for others. The Hurry Bug is intent on getting to his destination — and heaven help anyone who gets in his way. Don't be one of our community's Hurry Bugs, make courtesy your code of the road!

Another characteristic of the kind of driving we're talking about is that it's law abiding driving. The intelligent driver knows that in order to stay safe he must stay within the law. He familiarizes himself with the laws of Ontario and when he drives on our streets and highways he obeys the law!

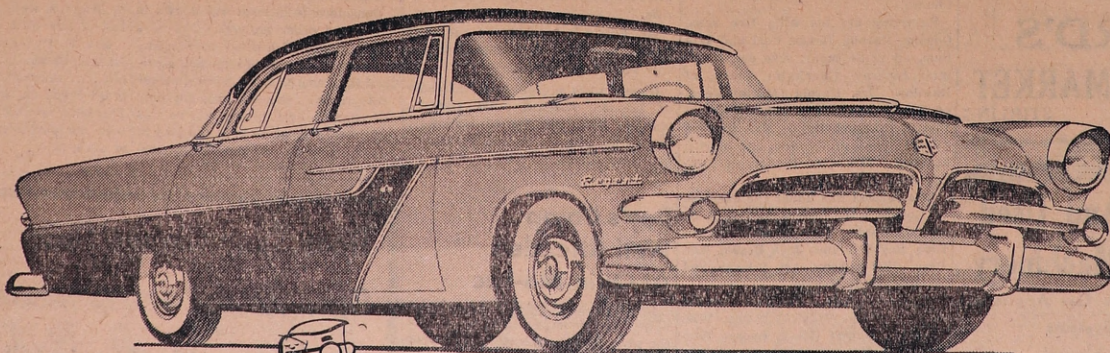

A third major consideration is that driving should be geared to conditions. A motorist should always drive at a speed that's safe for prevailing conditions — conditions of weather, the road, the car, and his own physical and mental state. If he's smart, a driver knows that any adverse condition calls for application of the rule: "Slow Down and Live!"

That about sums of the message contained in the Ontario Safety League's programme for the holidays, "Drive to Arrive Alive!" Unfortunately, many motorists will probably consider themselves too smart to follow its advice. To their sorrow they may arrive in a badly battered condition — or they may not arrive at all. Don't let this happen to you.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Weed of the Week

SHORT ROTATIONS CHECK CHICORY

Chicory (Chicorium intybus, L.) is a weed that has emigrated from Europe and made itself very much at home in this country. Its bright blue flowers are a common sight at this time of year along roadsides, in meadows and in cultivated land also. The weed is a perennial with a long tap root which robs crops of food and water. The root has been dried, ground and used as a coffee substitute at times, although it adds nothing to the quality of the brew. The flowers are blue and about the size of a fifty cent piece, arranged in clusters of three or four and attached to a many branched and almost leafless stem. Most of the leaves are close to the ground and look like overgrown dandelion leaves, with a few quite small leaves along the hairy, tough stems.

The Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture reports that an average Chicory plant will produce about 3,000 seeds a year. This makes it necessary to wage constant war against the weed. The seed begins to ripen in August and therefore is found in clover and grass seeds. It is a hardy seed, being able to withstand soaking in water for periods up to thirty-five days.

The Field Crops Branch emphasizes that the sowing of clean, top grade clover and grass seeds is an important means of combating Chicory. They advise short rotations also. This helps prevent the establishment of Chicory and its relatives — goldenrod, hawkweed and dandelion. In unworkable fields or roadsides a solution of 12 ounces of 2,4-D per acre sprayed on the foliage in late spring should kill the weed.

RENTAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR YOUR FARM

About 17 percent of all Ontario farms are rented, either fully or in part, according to a recent circular "Rental Arrangements for Your Farm," prepared by Agricultural Economists at the Agricultural College and the Canada Department of Agriculture. In addition to discussing rental arrangements, the circular includes lease forms for both cash and share rentals.

The practice of renting is important, states the circular, because an increasing number of farmers have found that their farms are too small to provide the incomes they want, and the renting of additional acreage nearby helps to answer this problem. In addition, the investment required to buy and equip their farms with machinery and livestock is now so great that many young men find it difficult to obtain sufficient capital. Consequently, they can use what capital they have for machinery and livestock and rent a farm.

There is nothing wrong with renting, says the circular, providing the lease is satisfactory. In some areas on this continent where farm incomes and values are high, over one-half of the farms are rented.

Renting gives a young farmer a chance to get started farming on his own in areas where both land values and farm incomes are high. A young farmer would usually be better off to rent a good farm, and put his capital into livestock and machinery than to make a down payment on a poor farm and not have money to buy the livestock and machinery he needs.

The circular points out that there are two common types of rental arrangements: share rentals and cash rentals. Under a share rental, the landlord and tenant receive specified shares of the farm income. Share rentals are most popular in the cash crop areas of the province. The landlord usually pays some of the operating expenses and both landlord and tenant share the risk of crop failure or the advantage of bumper crops. Under a cash rental agreement the tenant pays a specified sum for the use of the land and buildings. Most cash rentals in Ontario are on mixed livestock farms.

Although a recent survey of rentals in Ontario showed that there were written agreements on 56 percent of the rented farms, verbal agreements are obviously still very common. But an adequate written agreement is likely to lead to fewer misunderstandings than a verbal agreement.

The many questions dealing with leases — what is a fair lease, what are the most common contributions in a share rental, what contributions are made in cash rentals, the settling of disputes — are discussed in this new circular, "Rental Arrangements For Your Farm."

This circular, with the lease forms, is obtainable now at the office of the Agricultural Representative.

WHITE GRUBS

While preparing the soil for planting and seeding this spring many growers have observed numbers of white grubs. These grubs are the active larval stage of June beetles which were so numerous during late May and June of 1953. Since then the grubs have been feeding on the roots of plants. The injury which they caused to potatoes, strawberries, grain and grasses during the summer of 1954 was tremendous. The grubs are now almost full grown and will soon stop feeding. They will then enter the inactive period during which they will prepare for, and pass through, the pupal stage. In August the pupae will transform into the adult or beetle stage. These beetles will remain in the soil over winter and in the spring of 1955 will emerge from the soil, fly about, lay eggs and give rise to a new generation of the grubs.

Mr. W. C. Allan of the Department of Entomology, O.A.C., states that in most parts of the Province little or no damage will be caused by white grubs this season. Growers are, therefore, advised to continue with planting and seeding operations regardless of the presence of these pests. If the soil is heavily infested, Mr. Allan recommends that growers seed and fertilize a little heavier than usual to compensate for any damage which might take place before the grubs stop feeding. The use of insecticides in such areas is not recommended as these are slow in killing and expensive to use.

Where the soil is light and where some injury from white grubs has been prevalent every year, insecticides such as aldrin, chlordane, dieldrin and heptachlor should be applied to and worked into the soil. Growers in these areas should see the 1955 Ontario Vegetable Protection Calendar for details of treatment.

Poultry Industry Leader Honoured

"He taught men to think."

This tribute was paid to Dr. W. R. Graham, former head of the Poultry Department, Ontario Agricultural College, when on July 5th at the O.A.C. a plaque was unveiled in his honour which officially gave the name "Graham Hall" to the main building of the O.A.C.'s Poultry Department. Participating in the ceremony, an event of the annual Ontario Poultry Conference, were leaders of the poultry industry and Ontario Minister of Agriculture, F. S. Thomas, a former student of Dr. Graham's.

Graduating from the O.A.C. in 1894, Dr. Graham was appointed to the staff in 1899, and in 1908 was made professor of poultry husbandry. From then until his retirement in 1940, he played an important part in many advances in the poultry industry. Among them was the setting up of a record of performance policy for poultry, similar to that for dairy cattle, and the idea for an organization of scientific poultry husbandry workers, culminating in the formation of the Poultry Science Association on this continent and later the World Poultry Science Association. He was generally credited with having done more than any other person to develop the poultry industry from its early beginnings.

A native of the Belleville area, Dr. and Mrs. Graham now make Burlington their home.

Ice Cream

Of all the good things to eat there is nothing that provokes such ecstatic compliments or gives so much obvious eating pleasure as ice cream. The Home Economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture tell us that despite the large amount of cream, milk and other nutrients in ice cream, it is only since August 1946 that it has been classed as a food in Canadian Food Regulations. At that time, after a considerable amount of research it was proved that ice cream could qualify as a good dietary source of important nutrition essentials and because of this ice cream became recognized as a food rather than a "frozen compound" which it was formerly called.

It is no accident that the ice cream sold in Canadian stores and milk bars always tastes so good and is so pure and clean. The standards of composition for ice cream and sherbet are included in Canadian Food Regulations along with the standards for other foods. These regulations are strictly controlled by Government Inspectors who pay particular attention to all dairy products.

Even the size and the labelling of ice cream packages is controlled so that the consumer will know exactly what and how much she is buying. Small containers such as dixie cups must show how much they contain, that is, the number of fluid ounces. Packages containing five fluid ounces or more of ice cream or sherbet will be marked one-quarter pint, or one quart or one-half gallon, whatever the case may be. It should be kept in mind that this is Imperial measure — in other words a pint of ice cream will contain 20 fluid ounces or 2½ cups and a quart will have 40 ounces or 5 cups. The name and address of the manufacturer also must be shown on the label. Old fashioned homemade ice cream is generally made from a cooked custard base with cream and milk added before it is frozen. This type of ice cream is usually quite a lot richer than most of the ice cream we buy and those made from the packaged ice cream bases available in the shops.

Commercial ice cream is made from what is called an ice cream mix which consists of cream and milk, sweetening, flavouring and a stabilizer such as gelatine. The use of a stabilizer ensures smaller ice crystals and a smoother texture and it also helps to keep choice cream from melting as quickly as it otherwise might.

The mix may also contain eggs, cocoa, or chocolate and certain food colouring. Fruits, nuts or candy when used in ice cream are added during freezing. The percentages of milk, fat, food solids and stabilizers which may be used in ice cream are specified in Canadian Food Regulations. There must be at least ten percent milk fat in ice cream and no other fat than that of milk may be used in making ice cream or sherbet.

Sherbet contains milk solids, sugar, citric acid, water, flavouring and stabilizer. The milk fat content of sherbet is much lower than that of ice cream — in sherbet there cannot be more than five percent of milk solids and this includes the milk fat.

Last year Canadians enjoyed more than 28.6 million gallons of ice cream or almost two gallons for each person or allowing one-half of a cup per serving, it comes to nearly 80 servings each. That is a lot of ice cream and knowing how popular it is the Consumer Section has sent us some suggestions for using it in summertime desserts.

Baked Alaska is a particularly fascinating dessert because it is difficult to believe that ice cream can be baked. It is generally made from cake and firm ice cream covered with a thick layer of meringue and baked in a very hot oven just until browned. The cake and meringue act as insulation against the heat and they keep the ice cream from melting during the two or three minutes it is baking.

Individual Baked Alaska's can be made by using any of the following as a base: cake slices, tart shells, scooped-out cup cakes or mary-anis, half cantaloupe or other fruit. Baked Alaska pie is made in the same way as other baked Alaska but pie crust takes the place of the cake. The pie crust should be thicker than for ordinary pies and is generally a fancy crust such as chocolate or graham wafer crust.

Ice cream may be combined with cake and fruit or sauce to make ice cream sandwiches, shortcake, ice cream layer cake and ice cream roll which is made the same as a jelly roll, then chilled. It also is good as filling for cream puffs, chocolate eclairs, meringue shells and waffles, accompanied by fresh fruit or a sauce.

Though Canada is one of the world's leading trading nations, Canadians themselves consume more than eighty percent of what they produce.

The Canadian pulp and paper industry is one of the major industrial enterprises of the world.

OLD-TIME FIDDLERS' CONTEST

Pretty Peggy Brooks gets some help in tuning a fiddle from two who are obviously happy and eager for the time for the old-time fiddlers' contest to roll around. Miss Brooks, popular CBC-TV and radio songstress, doesn't plan to enter the fifth annual Canadian championship fiddlers' contest, but she will make a personal appearance at the contest in Shelburne, Ont., on Saturday, August 6th. Don Fairbairn (right), editor of CBC's "Neighbourly News" programme, will again be master of ceremonies of the Saturday night festivities when the contest finale is broadcast over the Trans-Canada network. Reid Forsee (left), CBC producer, will be in charge of the broadcast.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Weather conditions from a Fire Protection point of view continue quite favourable, though for a few days at the end of June and beginning of July there was a period of hazard that produced three fires. All of these fires were confined to small areas thanks to quick and efficient action on the part of the Ranging Staff.

Department aircraft O.C.Y. maintained fire patrols over the District, which quite frequently means the detecting of small smokes that are still at a stage where a tower cannot see them, and of great assistance in definitely locating fires picked up in a single shot from towers, during the early stages of a fire which is extremely important.

Pine Shoot Moth Part II

In the last news release the various stages in the life cycle of the shoot moth and the appearance of the injury to the host tree were described. This article will deal with the methods of controlling the insects.

Several species of insect parasites have been introduced from Europe in an effort to control the shoot moth and although several species have become established they have not as yet built up in large enough numbers to be considered as an effective control measure.

The removal and burning of the hook-shaped or bayonet-like infested shoots which are easily recognizable in late May is an effective means of controlling outbreaks in small groups of trees such as landscape plantings or windbreaks. A thorough job of picking is required for best results.

The most effective means of control is the use of insecticides but great care must be exercised in timing and application to obtain satisfactory results. The spraying must be timed so that a residue is present on the branch tips at the time larvae hatch. For best results a second spray should be applied two weeks after the first.

The spray should be applied as a fine mist under pressure so that the foliage, and particularly the tree leader and branch tips are thoroughly wetted. The following formulation is recommended:

1 gallon of DDT 25% Emulsible Concentrate (a number of suitable commercial preparations are available)
100 gallons of water

WRIGHTMAN — NEWELL NUPTIALS JULY 6th

Havelock United Church was resplendent with baskets of summer blooms on Wednesday, July 6th, when the Rev. G. R. Newman officiated at a pretty ceremony when Audrey Vivian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Newell, Havelock R.R. 3, became the bride of Francis Albert Wrightman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Wrightman, of Stirling, R.R. 3.

Miss Shirley Ann Bennett provided appropriate wedding music. The soloist, Mr. Fred Bennett, sang "I Love You Truly," previous to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a radiant picture in a floor-length gown of satin, fashioned with crinoline skirt and fitted bodice. Her veil of tulle illusion was caught to a headdress of seed pearls in cornet shape and fell in a slight train. She carried a white Bible on which was placed a bouquet of sweetheart roses arranged in medallion style with satin streamers.

Miss Joan Graham was maid of honour in a floor-length gown of yellow lace and net over taffeta with matching headdress and she carried a cascade bouquet of coral gladioli.

Miss Edith Thompson was bridesmaid, gowned in floor-length blue lace and net over taffeta with matching headdress and carried a cascade bouquet of pink gladioli.

The bride's niece, Miss Carol Dafeo, was junior bridesmaid in floor-length flocked nylon over coral taffeta, matching headdress and a cascade bouquet of yellow gladioli.

Miss Bonnie Bernard, niece of the bride, was a demure little girl in a floor-length gown of flocked nylon over blue taffeta with matching headdress and she carried a basket of pastel flowers.

Mr. Walter Wrightman, Stirling R.R. 3, was groomsmen for his brother.

The ushers were Mr. Wesley Dafeo, brother-in-law of the bride and Mr. Gerald Farrar, uncle of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church hall. The bride's mother received her guests in a gown of navy crepe with white accessories and corsage of sweetheart roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, wearing a gown of royal blue crepe, white accessories, and matching corsage.

Mrs. Wrightman chose for traveling to Toronto, Algonquin Park and other points a navy crepe ensemble with delphinium blue accessories and a corsage of tulle roses.

On their return they will reside in the Mount Pleasant community, Stirling R.R. 3, where the bride is well-known, having taught at the Allan School for the past two years.

BRADSHAW — MASON

Tall white standards of summer flowers interspersed with ferns formed an attractive background for a double ring ceremony in Springbrook United Church on Saturday afternoon, July 9th, at four o'clock, when the Pastor, Rev. H. E. Beare, united in marriage Lois Doreen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mason, Springbrook, to John Ross Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bradshaw, of Stirling.

Miss Barbara Meiklejohn, of Marmora, provided the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Thomas Saries, Stirling, aunt of the bride, who rendered "The Prayer Perfect" before the ceremony; "The Lord's Prayer," during the ceremony, and "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Malcolm Mason, the bride was beautiful in her bridal gown of white embroidered nylon net in waltz-length, featuring a fitted, strapless bodice and a full tiered skirt. She wore a matching bolero with long sheath like sleeves lily-pointed over the wrists.

Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion bordered with valencienne lace was caught to a Juliet styled headdress of tulle illusion encrusted with rhinestones and iridescent sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of tulle roses and white stephanotis tied with a lacy ribbon.

Miss Carol Neilson Mimico, Ont., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of nylon organza in yellow frosted with small white velvety flowers fashioned on princess lines, with matching mitts and shoes and carried a cascade bouquet of green and yellow shasta daisies and mauve 'mums tied with matching shades of ribbon and wore a floral headdress to match.

Misses Mona Pierson, Wellington, and Evelyn Emerson, Moira, were bridesmaids, wearing mauve and green waltz-length gowns respectively similar in style to the maid of honor with mitts and shoes to match. They carried cascade bouquets of green and yellow shasta daisies and mauve 'mums tied with ribbons of the same shades and wore floral headdresses to match.

Little Miss Brenda Dafeo, Batavia, was flower girl.

The bride was also the recipient of a hammered aluminum combination pyrex casserole and fresh fruit dish from the staff of Queen Elizabeth School, Belleville, the presentation being made at their annual party held at Presqu'ile Point, the latter part of June.

The Y.P.U. of Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, also presented Lois with a silver candy dish previous to her marriage.

Program Presented Under Direction Mrs. L. Rodgers — Topic By Mrs. E. McGee

The July meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Fargey on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Harold McGee and Mrs. L. Rodgers as assistants.

The President, Mrs. Roy Eggleton, welcomed the members and visitors and read a poem filled with the thought of love, hope and mercy. The hymn, "O Spirit of the Living God" was sung after which Mrs. E. Cain read the Scripture Lesson from Psalm 33. Prayer for strength, hope and courage was offered by Mrs. Roy Eggleton.

Mrs. L. Rodgers conducted the roll call which was answered by a verse of Scripture in which the word "hope" was found. The minutes of the last meeting were read. It was suggested that each member try to act as a visiting committee for July.

A summary of the meeting at Pittsburg was read by Mrs. Harper Rollins. These meetings are intended to stir missionary enthusiasm into the hearts of each W.M.S. member. Christ gives us the command to go and teach so a church that is not missionary minded will eventually die. After the offering was taken by Mrs. L. Rodgers a prayer of gratitude was offered by the President.

The second part of the meeting was in charge of Mrs. L. Rodgers. Mrs. Fargey expressed great pleasure for the co-operation she had received in the planning of the programme. After the hymn "Jesus the very thought of Thee," was sung, a splendid paper was read by Mrs. Don Fargey. The thought "Follow Thou Me" had a wonderful lesson for each one of us. If we really try to follow Jesus how much happier we would be. A duet, "Waiting for Jesus," sung by Mrs. Chas. Fargey and Mrs. Roy Eggleton transported the hearers into the other world.

A paper "The Hands of the Master," was read by Mrs. L. Rodgers. When I think of Jesus and those hands which knew hard work I say to myself, I need not to be ashamed of hard work. Our Master's hands were not soft and white from idleness. If we do our best with the talents which we possess we never need to worry about the future. If we fret we are not made perfect with faith in God.

An explanation of the keyword hope was given by Mrs. Fargey. Hopeful hearts will find roses under the snow. Deeds of hope are in the Bible and most of all in the resurrection. Hope takes the sting out of death.

The topic was given by Mrs. Eva McGee. This had entailed a lot of time and was most appreciated.

The singing of a hymn and the benediction brought the meeting to a close.

The hostess and her assistants served a very fine afternoon tea. Mrs. L. Dafeo on behalf of the Society, expressed thanks for the fine missionary programme and lunch. Mrs. Fargey was grateful to all.

Sunset Over The Trent

(By C. S. Chard)

From various roads over the surrounding hills one of the never-to-be-forgotten scenes is the "Sunset over the Trent River" — especially if you stop to take in the "View That Refreshes."

The whole countryside presents the idea of one vast park, with here and there a field of golden grain and green corn and meadows, beautiful after the July rains.

Many years ago an old schoolmate, whom I had not seen since we were young, remarked, "I have been to the Pacific and many other places, but never have I seen anything to equal the sunset over the Trent River." For one, I fully agree with him. What a pity (apparently so far) we lack someone to write a song or poem about the "Beautiful Trent" which appears to keep its average height and course, surely as worthy of note as "Swanee River." It is to be hoped, at any rate — even in future generations — if not sooner, such a one may appear in this area, whether an actual resident or not.

A few years ago in the month of March, artist and landscape painter Manly McDonald was painting a picture from top of the Oak Hills, overlooking the Trent. With all his experience of beautiful scenery he seemed to think it worth while, even in early spring with mostly leafless trees and a few evergreens and muddy roads.

Appears As Four Lakes

From some vantage points on clear days the Trent appears as four lakes — north of Frankford, along Highway 33; south of "Bradshaw's"; at Glen Ross Rapids, and farther north west of Sullivan and Armstrong hills. Even on dull days it is plain along Richardson's and Glen Ross — that latter named after a place in Scotland, so I have been told.

A very old man told us of how the work on the original canal at Glen Ross was stopped in 1837-38 on account of the rebellion — it was widened in 1909 and 1910. Also of his experience at age of sixteen years when he was drawing saw logs to Chisholm's Rapids (Glen Ross), near the west end of the present canal — the old Timber Dam was there at that time — his oxen broke loose from their load at the top of the hills south of Stirling and he finally caught them after a four mile chase and they were calmly chewing their cud.

Some will remember when the river would be full of logs below the Bradshaw farm and anyone could walk across on them, unless he was like the man who thought the lamp post needed support.

When Champlain and his voyageurs paddled down the Trent, likely in birchbark canoes, the scenery was likely somewhat different than now.

A person who grew up in this area and has been absent for the past fifty years, wrote requesting a few snaps of local scenery. This is the second request in a few years and looks as if wherever people roam, there is a longing for scenes of their childhood near the Trent.

Many a time while overseas I could picture in my mind a scene of the Valley of the Trent and Sunset over the river and the surrounding hills.

In an Eastern Ontario city an acquaintance told me of the fine trip he and his family had along No. 2 Highway and No. 33, on their way to Bancroft and Barry's Bay and home, but best of all was the scenery north of Trenton and Frankford along the Trent river, and how beautiful the sunset must be there. I assured him it was.

Many Changes

This part of Ontario, being well supplied with several industries nearby, the average working man can enjoy many comforts, while those working by the day fifty years ago were lucky if they owned a bicycle as a means of transportation to and from work. The "good old days" along the Trent were often hard enough for the working man. Many fine homes were built even then, but chiefly by those whose ancestors had been careful in all things. Previous to 1929 some of our scenic highways were muddy roads, especially spring and fall. If some of the settlers of a hundred years ago could see this country now, how strange it would appear to them — except the "Sunset over the Trent."

Even excluding its seasonal woods workers, pulp and paper is by far the largest industrial employer in the land.

SPRY SETTLEMENT S.S. RALLY

Spry Settlement Sunday School Rally was held on the lawn of Mrs. Percy McCann with a large attendance and the weather was ideal. Rev. A. Smith, of Belleville, was chairman. The meeting opened with hymn after which Rev. Patterson, of Belleville, led in prayer.

Mr. Kellogg, of Campbellford favored the gathering by bringing his tape recorder and recording the service.

Mr. Harold Brintnell and Mrs. Wesley Hulin, of Madoc, sang a beautiful duet, "God's Way is the Best Way," and were accompanied by Mrs. Patterson with her accordion. The Primary children repeated the 23rd Psalm, then they and the Junior class sang several choruses, accompanied by Mrs. Smith and her guitar. Mrs. Smith then told them a story. The children's part in the programme was enjoyed by all.

Harold Brintnell favoured with a solo "But you must open the door."

Rev. Patterson gave the message from Revelation 3, verse 20, "Jesus stands at the door and knocks."

Rev. and Mrs. Patterson sang a beautiful duet with accordion accompaniment, after which Rev. Smith closed with prayer.

Spry Sunday School is to be congratulated for carrying on their work in such a splendid way and may God bless them in their fine work for 1955. —Madoc and Belleville papers please copy.

Poor Yield of Blueberries Is Reported

The blueberry and raspberry crops have been a disappointment to pickers this season. According to those who have been picking blueberries in the Kalarad hills, the crop will sell below normal. The berries are found in scattered patches, which means a lot of rough walking for few berries. Accordingly, prices are high with a six-quart basket bringing from $3.00 to $3.50. Coupled with the damage wrought by the hail storm and late frosts, a worm appears to be eating the berries; all of which means there won't be many blueberries on the dinner table next winter.

New Housing Development

A new 72-residence building project, financed by Frank S. Follwell, Lorne McDougall and Robt. Pringle, all of Belleville, has been started in Sidney Township just west of the city. Farmland adjoining the Ontario School for the deaf was purchased by the three men and divided into building lots. Over a dozen homes are now under construction on the property which will be known as Avondale Heights. The area along No. 2 Highway has become a popular one for home owners during recent years, and new homes have mushroomed all along the

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

Union Services

Members of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church were warmly welcomed on Sunday last at St. Paul's; the first of the four Sundays on which the Union Services are being held at this church.

One Church

The ever repeated question — "Why not one Church?" — is perhaps natural to the Christian mind for certainly no Christian can be happy with what has been described as "our unhappy divisions."

There are, however, many and very serious points to consider whenever this question is seriously raised.

First of all, I would not agree that our divisions need be "unhappy." But the more important fact when we speak of having one church is that it has been tried. Very few people seem to be aware of this, yet it is the fact. For many centuries there was but one church — the Roman Catholic — and this fact should serve to check us from unworthy criticism both of the present and the past.

Certainly that Church did embrace within itself some of the least desirable elements in society, it also embraced the best, and but for it what we now know as Christianity would have been lost to the world.

The further fact is: One Church is at this point in history neither practical nor desirable. It is not desirable because whenever and wherever there is or has been one Church, it has become a meddler in politics. Power corrupts, absolute power corrupts absolutely.

Also, it is no more practical than one world in terms of a one world economy at the moment. We are just not ready for it and we will not be until we all seek another's profit and work for another's gain. Until then, no three of us will agree, where, or what Church there ought to be.

Then again, there are differences in need and appreciation. Some of us are more at home with a highly ritualistic and liturgical service. Some are not and one would think that each has a right to that which suits him best. Beyond that there is the question of intellectual needs and attainment and conversely, the fact that there are those who have no conscious intellectual need.

I would think that the first step towards a one world church is the cleansing of prejudices, the making of our divisions an inspiration to fellowship and communion and a desire to get nearer to one another in the spirit of our religion.

Certain it is that no one church has a monopoly of the truth, and it is equally certain that none is more worthy than another to assume that it is the perfect instrument of God's will, and finally, none can claim to be the one historic Church.

Trees

There was a mis-print in the story of the trees last week. Here is what Margaret said: "Hazel took all the big trees with her; the little fellows were left standing. The reason for this was that the little fellows knew how to bend."

On Being At

One's Worst

"Do you think there are many really wicked people?" asked a friend one day recently. By this I took him to mean — are there many who really intend to be vicious, cold, calculating and evil. When we blow our top, speak unkindly, act viciously, etc., are we expressing our true selves?

I think my answer would be a unqualified "No." Generally speaking we are just being at our worst instead of being at our best. It is wrong to be so and we ought not to be like that, but we are, every one of us at times.

The reasons, of course, are legion. It may be that we are suffering from the effects of aggravation. People aggravate us, upset us, and some of us are very busy in the upsetting business. If we thought about it we would not do that kind of thing for when we do upset people we are making it just that much more difficult for them to be good.

Sometimes a dark mood is upon us and we become quiet and sullen, quick to quarrel and thus throw an atmosphere of anger and suspicion and bitterness around us.

We are catty, we talk unkindly about people, run them down and leave them in rags and tatters. Why? It would be a mistake to put this down to utter evil. It is evil, but that is not what is intended. Maybe we are unsure of ourselves, or we think we are inferior and thus go on to prove we are inferior by the way we talk about other people. Often of course, we attribute to others the very sins we are most susceptible to ourselves.

Sickness has a good deal to do with unsocial activities and 50 percent of us are sick. This darkens a man's day, and clouds his outlook until he becomes peevish and fretful. It's much easier to be kind and generous when we are feeling tops, it is easy to be unkind when we are feeling below par.

Virtue Rewarded

One of two women riding in a bus suddenly realized that she had not paid her fare. Turning to the other she said: "I must go pay my fare."

"Why worry," asked the other, "you have got away with it so far — so what?"

"I'll pay," said the first. "Honestly pays, you know."

Off she went and paid her fare. Returning to her companion and holding out the change, she said: "I told you so. Honestly always pays. I gave him a quarter and he gave me change for 50 cents."

No — there are no very wicked people around.

Rev. T. F. Townsend Leaves Rednersville

At the end of the United Church Conference year, the Rev. and Mrs. T. F. Townsend, of Rednersville, are moving to Belleville. The Rev. Mr. Townsend has served in Rednersville three years, coming from Deseronto where he had spent six years. Mr. Townsend, a native of Harrowsmith, Ont., graduated in Arts from Queen's University, going to France with the 9th Field Ambulance from Wesley College, Montreal, later joining No. 7 Canadian General Hospital in Etaples, France. At the close of the war he spent a term in Edinburgh University. Returning to Canada he studied in Montreal, obtaining the B.A. degree and received ordination at Kemptville in 1920. As a student minister, Mr. Townsend spent two years in British Columbia.

Mr. Townsend and his wife, the former Lucy Eleanor (Nell) Medcof, have served the United Churches at Frankville, Westport, Inkerman, Elgin, Rawdon Charge, Stirling; Deseronto and Rednersville. With their daughter, Pauline (now Mrs. J. H. Hutchinson), they spent one summer in Britain, having charge of a church in Alloa, Scotland, and later travelling in England, France and Belgium.

Mrs. Townsend, who is an R.M.T., is a teacher in piano, singing and theory, and has served as soloist and choir leader in the churches mentioned as well as in Dominion Church, Montreal.

Prior to leaving Rednersville Mr. and Mrs. Townsend were the recipients of many tokens of esteem and friendship. Mr. Townsend has paid weekly visits to five public schools where he gave religious instruction besides the four points served, Rednersville, Centre, Victoria and Albury, also supervising the Consecration Charge. Mrs. Townsend has given leadership in the W.M.S., the Woman's Association, the C.G.I.T. group and in the local choir, also conducted a private class in piano, singing and theory.

The Rev. and Mrs. Townsend left early in July for a trip to the West Coast before taking up residence in their new home, 19 Hillside Street, Belleville. —Picton Gazette.

In ill health for some time, Mrs. Nettie May Fox, beloved wife of Simeon Fox, 312 Bridge Street East, Belleville, died at her home early Friday morning. The late Mrs. Fox was identified with the Belleville community for the past 25 years and endeared herself to a wide circle of friends.

She was born in Hastings County, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy. She lived in many sections of the county until 25 years ago when she moved with her husband to Belleville. Mr. Fox was county road superintendent for many years. The late Mrs. Fox, when health permitted, took an active interest in the work of Bridge Street United Church.

Surviving are her husband, Simeon Fox; two sons, Herbert W. Fox and Wilbur M. Fox, of the Walker Hardware Company; one daughter, Mrs. Gerald (Dorothy) Brignell, at home; a niece and nephew, Mrs. Beulah Reid, of Montreal, and Charles Wiley, of Detroit, Michigan, whom they raised in their home; three brothers, Isaac McCoy, of Remington; Bert McCoy, of Eldorado; William McCoy, of Madoc, and two sisters, Mrs. Annie Doughty, of Cannifton, and Mrs. Ottilie Smith, of Madoc.

Most Modern Trucks on any job with the most advanced truck features the industry has ever seen!

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Only new Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks bring you all these truly modern design and engineering features today!

They're the marks of a modern truck, and they out-date any make without them!

And they're the money-making, money-saving advantages that ask this question: Can you really afford not to make your next new truck a Chevrolet? Judge for yourself!

Beginning with Work-Styling, an entirely new development in truck design. For the first time in any line of trucks, Chevrolet brings you two styling treatments. Two distinctively different designs — one for light- and medium-duty models, another for heavy-duty jobs — both clean-lined and modern to the smallest detail. Here is styling with a meaning. Styling that's matched to the model and the job.

Ride Custom cab features the extra comfort of a foam rubber cushion and harmonizing two-tone inside. Outside, bright metal moldings and new two-tone color options. Custom cabs set whole new standards for comfort and convenience.

New concealed Safety Steps. Running boards are ancient history now. Chevrolet's new Safety Steps are out of sight with the doors closed. That way, snow, ice or mud can't collect to cause accidents. Safety Steps are lower, too, for easier entrance.

New panoramic windshield. The windshield alone has 1000 square inches of safety glass to give you a wider, virtually unobstructed view of the road — and there's more glass area all around. A new glass-guard molding completely surrounds the side windows, reducing possibility of breakage. A wide-view wrap-around rear window is available as an extra-cost option.

Fresh air in all kinds of weather. With Chevrolet's new High-Level ventilating system, air is drawn in through louvers at cowl level. That means air is constantly circulated through the cab, regardless of disagreeable weather conditions.

High-Voltage power starts you quicker. You really have it modern under the hood! All New Task-Force engines are sparked by a hefty 12-volt electrical system. Quicker starting, even on cold mornings, is one big advantage. Increased generator capacity is another. The high-compression power of these great valve-in-head engines keeps you running longer between gas stops. Here's performance that cuts operating costs and shaves valuable time from your schedules!

Tubelless tires standard on 1/2-ton models. Pickups, panels, Suburban Carry-alls — all models in the 1/2-ton class now come with new tubelless tires. Here's greater protection against blowouts.

Every Power Helper in the book. Power brakes, for example — a big help in reducing driver effort while increasing safety — are standard equipment on heavier models, an extra-cost option on others. The new handling ease of Power Steering, another extra-cost option, cuts turning effort up to 80%. There's new gas-saving Over-drive, an extra-cost option on 1/2-ton models — ideal for stop-and-go city hauling — available at extra cost on 3/4-, 1-, and 1-1/2-ton jobs. They're worthwhile extra-cost helpers that can save you a lot of time and money in the long run.

And the final touch. Color! New colors and two-tone combinations add the final styling touch to these great new trucks. Your selection is wider than ever before. Choose the color combination that best matches your job, that best calls attention to you and your business. That way you'll be taking full advantage of the advertising value of your new Task-Force model. One final word. When the time comes to trade in '55 models, the man without a really modern truck stands to take a good-sized loss. Come in and see us soon.

The New Camo Carrier. Sports model of the truck field — designed with special jobs in mind. Long and low, with smooth, fleet lines, here's the Custom pickup that may well create a whole new class of truck owners!

McClean -- Kelly Wedding

A marriage of interest was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kelly, Foxboro, at 3 p.m. on Saturday, when their daughter, Dorothy June, became the bride of Mr. William McClean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McClean, of Ireland. Rev. W. H. V. Walker, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, officiated, assisted by Mr. John McMurray, Foxboro.

Miss Marion Kelly was her sister's bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by Mr. Marvin Rena, of Foxboro.

After a wedding trip around Lake Ontario, the bride and groom will reside in Foxboro.

Rylstone

Visitors at the home of Mrs. Preston Bothwell on Saturday last, in honour of Bonnie's birthday were Mrs. John Cleugh, Ellen, Colin and David; Dwayne Kerr, Agnes McKeown and Wayne Wildman. They enjoyed a picnic supper at Crowe River Bridge.

What might have been a serious fire was narrowly averted on Wednesday when a spark from a bonfire at Rylstone Cheese Factory ignited the long dry grass, and burned over quite an area before it could be brought under control. Had it got as far as Finch's or Spencer's woods, it would have been much harder to get it out. Everything is tinder dry and a day's rain would certainly be appreciated.

Remember the Sunday Evening Sacred Concerts held every Sunday at the Crowe River Picnic Grounds.

Miss Barbara Holbert, of Moira, is spending a few days with her cousin, Agnes McKeown.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reid and Georgie and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath and Carol spent Sunday at Presqu'ile.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson spent the week-end at Oshawa with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Murney Fleming. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reid and David who spent the week-end with relatives at Bowmanville. Ferne Reid has been spending a few days holidaying here.

Mrs. Harold Linn, of Kindersley, is visiting relatives in this community.

Mrs. Preston Bothwell cut her hand quite badly while using a sickle on Thursday.

Married — At Coe Hill on Saturday, Roy Petherick, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petherick and second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan White. They will reside in Toronto.

Margaret Spencer, of Peterborough and Doug Doohar, of Campbellford, were supper guests at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Thomson and her husband and family on Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spencer, Lynn and Suzanne were Sunday visitors of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Husband, Napanee.

Mrs. Essie Conley and Mrs. Aleata Wilson, of Batawa, and Mrs. Ray Davis, Virginia, Bobbie and Gordon, of Glen Miller, spent Friday with Mrs. Wilfred Spencer and family. Patsy Spencer returned home with them for a few days.

Association of the Rylstone United Church. There were 10 ladies, Rev. H. E. Beare and 5 children present. The President, Mrs. Ray Stewart, opened the meeting in the usual way with a hymn, "O God of Bethel," and the Lord's Prayer in unison. The Scripture reading, Genesis, 48, was given by Mr. Beare. A reading "Blessings Through God Live," was read by Mrs. Ray Stewart.

The roll call was answered by a Scripture Verse containing the word "Blessed." The hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign," was sung with the organist, Mrs. Thos. McKeown at the organ. Readings were given by Mrs. Fred McKeown, "Unexpected Happiness," and Mrs. Clarence Thomson, "Why I Go To Church."

A letter from Mrs. Stegink, Missionary to Africa, was read by Mrs. Will Rutherford and a report of the 23rd Convention of the W.A. held in Madoc was given by Mrs. Thos. McKeown.

A duet, "Let the Sun Shine In," was given by Sherry Spencer and Marilyn Stewart, with Mrs. Ellis Jones accompanying at the organ. Two more readings were given by Mrs. Lily Anderson, "The Guiding Hand," and Mrs. Ellis Jones, "Her Own Little House." Rev. H. E. Beare gave a short talk and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Just before the meeting was dismissed Mrs. Anderson was called to a chair and Mrs. Will Rutherford read a few words of congratulation to her, as it was her 75th birthday. Marilyn Stewart, Mrs. Anderson's great niece, then presented her with an insulated teapot in appreciation of her years of service to the Woman's Association and Church, and Brian Thomson collected birthday cards from all the members and presented them to her. Everyone sang "Happy Birthday Dear Lily," and Mrs. Anderson spoke a few words of thanks. The hymn "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was sung and lunch served.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Stewart. Mrs.

Harry Mumby will be the convener. The keyword will be "Christ." Sacred Concert
At Crowe River Bridge
The Sacred Community Concert at July 17th, was the largest yet. A large crowd filled the seats and many more remained in their cars or stood among the trees to listen to the programme and take part in the community and group singing. Mrs. Wilfred Spencer, Institute President, welcomed the crowd, as did Mrs. Don Kerr and Mr. H. Bourne.

The programme opened with the theme song "Come to the Church in the Wildwood," with Mrs. Ellis Jones supplying accompaniment on the port-Crowe River Bridge on Sunday night, able organ. The Madoc and District Brass Band was in attendance and played several numbers at the opening of the programme. The programme was in charge of Seymour West community and was as follows:

Community singing, led by Mrs. F. McCullough, with Mrs. Don Rutherford at the organ; ekeuleke and vocal duet, "God's Way Is The Best Way" and "Follow Me," by Malcolm Hutchison and son Ronnie, holidaying in the community; violin and accordion duet, "Old Rugged Cross" and medley of hymns, by Mrs. Don Rutherford and Mrs. Bruce Barnum; vocal solo, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and "When I Grow Too Old To Dream," by Aileen McKelvie; accordion solo, "Memories" and "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," by Mrs. Bruce Barnum; vocal and organ duet, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Lord, I'm Coming Home," by Messrs. Love and Baldwin, of Toronto.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Ernest Irwin with Mrs. Jones accompanying. The programme closed with selections by the band and the singing of God Save The Queen.

Thanks to Seymour Council, who put calcium on the roads since the last concert. There was no dust around the picnic grounds and safer driving approaching the river.

Old Boy's Reunion At Frankford

Plans are now almost completed for the biggest event in the history of the village of Frankford. The Lion's Club sponsored Old Boys' Reunion, which will start July 27th, and conclude on Civic Holiday, Monday, August 3rd, promises to be the most exciting five days in the recent history of the village.

Civic, religious and service club leaders are co-operating in the plan to bring back former residents of the village for a big celebration which will be climaxed with parades, sports and contests.

Events will get under way Wednesday, July 27th, at 2 p.m. when what is announced by the committee as "a Calithumpian parade" starts from the park on the east side of the Trent River, led by the Frankford Citizens' Band. The parade will end at the Lions' arena in the southern part of the community, where many events are planned for the special benefit of the visiting former residents. Lions Frank Cleveland will be in charge of the big parade, which will include floats and many other attractions.

Softball on the new diamond at the community centre will start the sports programme. An old time fiddlers' contest has been arranged under the direction of Clinton Cooney, to last throughout the Reunion.

Canadian armed forces, including the RCAF from Station Trenton, will be featured Thursday. A preview of the CNE programme is expected.

On Friday, the anglers will take over. The Lions Club has arranged a fish derby in charge of Arthur Southworth. For the biggest fish caught between Frankford and Glen Miller one prize will be given and another is to be awarded for the most fish taken from the Frankford bridge over No. 33 highway.

Young people from Colborne in calisthenics drills, a girls' softball game and more old time fiddling, will complete the second day.

Agriculture and the village's children will receive special attention on the Saturday, when Lions president Ray Moran and Lion George Montgomery, who is also the reeve of Frankford, will be in charge. Motorcycle events are also planned.

Highlight of the five day celebrations will be the Memorial Day service held by Frankford Branch 387 of the Canadian Legion, BESL, of which Jack MacInally is president. A total of 28 legion branches have been invited to participate with Branch 387 in

JOAN FAIRFAX AND
DENNY VAUGHAN

Romantic duets by Joan Fairfax and Denny Vaughan are highlights of the weekly summer TV variety show, "On Stage" with Denny Vaughan. The programme appears on the CBC television network every Wednesday night. Denny and Joan are regulars on the programme which features special guests each week.

The big parade to the local cenotaph led by the Frankford Citizens' Band and the RCAF bugle band. Chairman in charge of the service will be Col. Roscoe Vanderwater, DSO, MC, VD. Speaker for the occasion will be Rev. J. F. Lane, of Madoc, a former pastor of Frankford United Church. This service will take place in the afternoon.

All churches are expected to hold special services marking the occasion. On the final day a "pyjama parade" is scheduled for the early morning hours. Stock car races, ball games, a baby show in charge of Dr. J. Beach, and old time fiddlers' finals will conclude the Reunion.

Officials of the Frankford Lions Club believe that the community will enjoy one of the finest times in its history, as former residents return to their old home town.

Safety Comes To A Picnic

Spraining an ankle and suffering a bee sting are not the only ways to spoil your picnic fun. Uninvited and unseen "guests" may arrive in your picnic basket in the form of food poisoning bacteria.

Play it safe and have everyone well when your picnic is over! Well planned and carefully prepared picnic menus can foil the work of troublesome bacteria — the kind which may cause food poisoning without producing obvious signs of food spoilage. Without proper care in selection and handling, your picnic may be a picnic for these organisms too — with temperatures, humidity and food to their liking and time for their growth.

Perishable foods, especially moist protein foods, travel safely ONLY when refrigerated. They should go on outings ONLY if they are eaten within two or three hours after preparation and if they've been continuously refrigerated until the journey starts. Poor picnic risks include cream-filled dishes, meat (especially if minced), fish, chicken, egg salad mixtures and left-over foods. Extra vinegar, lemon juice or pickles in sandwich and salad mixtures will help retard bacteria growth.

Plan your picnic around foods which remain safe for the duration of your picnic. Because they do not offer suitable conditions for the development of food poisoning bacteria, breads of all types, rolls, muffins, cakes, cookies and fruit pies are natural for a meal in the open. To put between slices of bread or halves of rolls and buns, choose hearty sandwich fillings to withstand the heat and the long journey. You'll be safe with peanut butter, cheese (except cottage or cream cheese), pickled or smoked meats, jams and jellies. Oranges, apples and bananas are good travelling companions, with plenty of crisp, raw vegetables, fresh from the refrigerator, safe and welcome additions to any picnic meal.

To wrap up the picnic, explore the advantages of the newest types of moisture-vapour proof films, foils and papers. Individual portions, carefully wrapped, make for cleaner, safer handling and easier serving for out-of-hand eating.

Just make sure that safety comes to your picnic — and that the ants are the only uninvited guests!

With an annual value of production of $1.2 billion, pulp and paper accounts for seven percent of the value of the output of all Canadian industry.

In Hymen's Bonds

STEWART — DONALDSON

Wallbridge Parsonage was the setting on Saturday, July 2nd, at 2:30 p.m. for a quiet, but pretty wedding, when Shirley Ann Donaldson, of Belleville, R.R. 2, daughter of Mrs. B. C. Hinchliffe, and the late Mr. Charles H. Donaldson, became the bride of Douglas M. Stewart, of Foxboro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Stewart. The Rev. W. E. Dovey officiated in the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by Mr. Barton Hinchliffe, the bride was radiant in a gown of rainbow white nylon lace and net over taffeta, featuring a fitted bodice of lace over taffeta. Her headpiece of nylon, sequin-trimmed net held a shoulder-length veil. She wore matching fingertip gloves, and carried a bouquet of red roses, adiantum fern, and baby's breath.

Miss Joyce Walker, of Belleville, R.R. 6, was her only attendant, wearing a rainbow blue gown in ballerina length, with matching headpiece of blue nylon net, with sequin trim, matching mitts, and carrying a nosegay of pink roses mingled with baby's breath.

Mr. Stewart Lowe, Norham, Ont., attended the bridegroom.

The reception was held at Wallbridge Orange Hall, with the LOBA, of which the bride is a member, doing the catering. The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of navy blue sheer, with white accessories and corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother, attired in powder blue taffeta, with white accessories, and corsage of yellow carnations, assisted in receiving the guests.

For the wedding trip to Ottawa and points east, the bride wore powder blue nylon net, with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations. They will reside at Foxboro.

Guests were present from Norham, Napanee, Belleville, Glen Miller, Foxboro, Batawa, Frankford and Eldorado.

Previous to her marriage the bride was presented with a wool blanket by the LOBA. A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mrs. Arthur Carleton by the young people of Wallbridge and a presentation of bedding from the Batawa firm of which she was an employee.

PICTON MAYOR DONATES 2-WAY PHONE

Mayor H. J. McFarland, of Picton, has donated a $1,500 two-way radio-telephone to the Picton Police Department. The equipment is installed in the police car and at the county buildings where Miss Edna Anderson is operator.

Named Secretary of Presbytery

Rev. Stephen Spurrell, of Bloomfield, was elected secretary of Belleville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada at a recent meeting held in Port Hope. He assumed his new duties on July 1st, succeeding Rev. K. J. Crawford.

Each charge is asked to have their lay roll up to date and to keep the new secretary properly informed.

Ameliasburg Pastoral Charge was given permission to erect a new parsonage.

A communication from Mr. J. Hart of the Consecration Pastoral Charge, applying to be received as a candidate for the ministry was forwarded to the colleges and students' committee.

H. J. McFARLAND CO. OPENS NEW QUARRY NEAR DESERONTO

The H. J. McFarland Company of Picton has completed arrangements to purchase a section of property from W. Kimmett on the outskirts of Deseronto for a quarry.

Some machinery has already been moved in and preparations have begun for crushing rock. A considerable amount of rock has been contracted for and the crusher will be in operation for some time.

Plans To Cover Marilyn Bell Swim

Plans have been made to report Marilyn Bell's English Channel swim on both CBC radio and television.

Although some doubt still hangs over the actual date on which Marilyn will swim, the CBC has made plans to provide extensive coverage of the young Canadian's challenge of the English Channel, including direct radio coverage of the beginning and conclusion, and a report on her progress about half way. Newsreel coverage will be shown on TV.

The CBC hopes to be able to beam shortwave, direct from a boat in the Channel, a description of events leading up to Marilyn's dive-in, "live" to the Trans-Canada network, with the possibility of pre-swim interviews with Marilyn and her coach Gus Ryder.

Arrangements for the shortwave broadcasts have been made through the co-operation of the BBC.

A second report, several hours later (possibly 8:00 a.m. E.D.T.), will tell of Marilyn's progress and when she is expected to reach the English coast. A third report will cover her arrival.

Actual broadcast times will depend on the availability of shortwave beams on the date of the swim, although tentative plans now set the opening broadcast for 11:45 p.m. E.D.T. (4:45 a.m. British time) on the day of the swim. The second report is tentatively scheduled for 8:00 a.m. E.D.T., eight-and-a-quarter hours later. The broadcasts will be beamed by shortwave from the boat to St. Margaret's Bay, taken to London by landline, overseas to New York by shortwave, and thence by wire to Toronto.

Among the CBC reporters on the scene will be Wally Rayburn of the Toronto Telegram and possibly Bernard Trotter, CBC's European representative.

Special bulletins on Marilyn's progress will be announced as they are received in the CBC newsrooms.

MASONIC BANQUET BIG AFFAIR

Planned two years ago, one of the largest banquets ever served in Canada — there were 3,300 guests — went off without a hitch on Monday night at the CNE Automotive Building.

It was the Grand Master's Banquet of the Grand Lodge, A.F. & A.M., of Canada in the Province of Ontario. It was catered by the Stoddiegh Caterers of Toronto.

Some idea of the scale of the banquet is indicated by these statistics:

Four hundred people were required to prepare and serve the dinner.

They used 56,000 items of dishes and silverware.

Laid end to end the banquet tables would reach more than three-quarters of a mile.

The 3,300 guests, including 150 at two head tables, consumed 4,000 pounds of chickens, two tons of potatoes and 250 gallons of coffee.

THE COMMODORES

Men of note are "The Commodores" — and not just musical note, since they have sung in Britain, Holland, Belgium and Germany, as well as right across Canada and in parts of the United States. Their European tour goes back to the War when they were part of the Navy show. Since their return, they have been giving concerts from coast to coast, many by way of CBC broadcasts. Currently they are heard Tuesday nights on the Trans-Canada network, singing western ballads, sea chanteys, operatic melodies and negro spirituals. Reading up the scale they are: Donald Farrah, bass; John Ringham, baritone; Carl Tapscott, second tenor, and leader of the group; and Harvard Reddick, first tenor.

The Bourkes all work at the Bell!

Away back in 1922, a young man by the name of Arthur Bourke joined our company. Little did he realize that his children — all six of them — would follow in his footsteps to careers at the Bell. Today Mr. Bourke would be more than proud of his handsome family. We know we are!

The Bourkes, like all telephone people, know from their own experience that the Bell is "a good place to work". They have found pleasant associates and interesting work at good wages. They have also found satisfaction and opportunity in serving the public in an essential business.

And this is as it should be, for good telephone service depends upon people who like their jobs, and convey this feeling to our customers. This is the feeling that is largely responsible for "the spirit of service" you find in Bell employees wherever you meet them.

"THE CANADIAN" HEADS WEST

W. A. Mather, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway (right inset), pulls the switch that sends "The Canadian" — CPR's new transcontinental scenic dome train — on her way across the nation, as Mayor Jean Drapeau, of Montreal, looks on. The gleaming, all stainless steel streamliner streaked through the 2,881 miles from Montreal to Vancouver in 71 hours and 10 minutes, as compared with the former transcontinental time of 87 hours, 10 minutes. Eastbound, the schedule has been reduced by 12 hours and 30 minutes to 70 hours, 20 minutes. Thousands of persons lined the right of way as "The Canadian" made her inaugural run across the nation that saw her arrive at Vancouver destination right on schedule. In the above photo "The Canadian" is shown leaving Windsor Station which appears in the background. Upon arriving at Sudbury seven cars were added to the train to make it a 15 car train for the westward journey.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Weed of the Week

WILD CARROT CAN BE INJURIOUS TO STOCK

Wild Carrot, Bird's Nest and Queen Anne's Lace are all names given to the black sheep of the carrot family which came originally from Europe and has now spread through Southern Ontario and is attempting to invade the Northern and Eastern sections of the province, according to the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Although its lacy white flower is very attractive, Wild Carrot has other features which are not so pleasing. It not only spreads along roadsides, through pastures and crop land robbing crop plants of nutrients and water, but it also harbours diseases which attack garden carrots. Wet Wild Carrot plants have been known to cause dermatitis or blisters in animals as well.

The weed is a biennial with the fern-like appearance of a garden carrot above ground and has a grey, fleshy cone shaped root. Slender, strong, hairy stems support a four-inch flat topped flower which blooms from June through September. By fall the flower is replaced by seeds and the head assumes the shape of a bird's nest. This seed head breaks off during fall and winter to be blown from one location to another spreading its seeds as it travels.

Wild Carrot can be controlled by mowing if the mowing is done frequently. 2,4-D when applied at 10 to 15 ounces of acid per acre is generally successful in controlling the weed. The chemical should be applied when the plant is actively growing in late May and early June. Plants must be wetted thoroughly with the chemical to obtain good results. One spraying is not likely to kill all Wild Carrot plants and some weeds may remain in the soil for long periods of time before germinating. It is necessary to control each generation of plants in the actively growing stage.

NEW BREED OF HOGS NAMED "LACOMBE"

The new breed of hogs developed by the Canada Department of Agriculture at the Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alta., has been named "Lacombe." As announced earlier, the new breed is the result of seven year careful selection and mating of a combination of Landrace, Chester White and Berkshire breeding, with Landrace predominating. The Lacombe, when crossed with the Yorkshire, at the Lacombe and Scott Experimental Stations produced cross-bred pigs equal or superior to either breed in all important economic traits, such as rate of gain and quality of product.

A PLANT PROTECTION SERVICE

All plants and certain plant products imported into Canada must be inspected and released by the Plant Protection Division of the Canada Department of Agriculture before distribution is allowed. Every precaution must be taken to prevent the introduction into Canada of plant diseases and insect pests through importations from foreign countries. Close cooperation between the Plant Protection, Plant Pathology and Entomology Divisions is responsible for the high standard of service Canada has maintained over the years.

Caution must be exercised at all times. For example, a shipment consisting of 6,500 tons of peanuts arrived in Montreal recently which is believed to be the largest single importation of its kind, involving the equivalent of 250 car lots. The entire cargo was found to carry a medium infestation of six species of stored product pests and fumigation was ordered at the expense of importers. This involves treatment with methyl bromide by pest control operators under the supervision of the staff of the Plant Protection Division.

Total importations of nursery stock during the year ending March 31st, 1955, were slightly lower than during the previous fiscal year, as a report indicates a decrease of about five million plants from the 110 million imported in 1953-54. Holland, Canada's main source for bulbs, was the leading exporter of nursery stock to this country for the 1953-54 fiscal year, but the U.S.A. took over the lead in the following year with a total of approximately 52.5 million, with Holland running a close second with over 50 million. Other comparatively large exporters of nursery stock to this country from a total of 42 countries are Belgium, France, Germany and the British Isles.

FEW ARMY WORMS REPORTED

A few army worms have been reported with minor crop damage in Lanark and near Kemptonville, but the recurrence of this pest is not likely to be in volume, as reported from the Ottawa district. Francis Walsh, of Otonabee, said recently he had found a few at the home farm, but not enough to get out the spraying machine.

Britain To Take Surplus Cheese

Speaking to the Frontenac County Holstein Breeders Club at Kingston on July 14th, Everett Biggs, Dairy Commissioner for Ontario said, "The United Kingdom government has approved the sum of approximately $4,000,000 for the import of Canadian cheddar cheese from July 1st, 1955 to June 30th, 1956. In my opinion this will be enough to clear the surplus production above domestic requirements in Canada for that period."

Mr. Biggs made this announcement at what was characterized as "Operation Moo" by the staff at Old Fort Henry, Kingston. A group of Holstein cattle invaded the Fort for the evening and Holstein breeders numbering 400 accompanied them. "David" the goat who is mascot at Old Fort Henry greeted each visiting bovine at a special ceremony, the guard paraded with fife and drum band in authentic historical costume and cannon boomed a salute.

Mr. Biggs stated that the first steps had been taken to make Kemptonville Agricultural School the cheddar cheese research center for Ontario. Professor Owen Irvine, formerly of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph and recognized as one of the outstanding research men on cheese in Canada, has been appointed to head this center. A top dairy bacteriologist will be appointed to work with Professor Irvine.

J. Powell, of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, reported that G. M. Clemons, Secretary-Manager of the Association had just returned from Europe feeling optimistic about the future prospects for sale of top Holsteins there. Last winter the first shipment of Holsteins to Spain took place and a repeat order has now been secured. The herd of close to 1,000 head of Canadian Holsteins being maintained by County Marzotto near Venice is providing favourable publicity for our cattle and the prospects are that more business will be coming from Italy. In Great Britain the trend is toward a more dairy-like animal and definite interest is being shown in the possibility of importing Canadian Holsteins. Mr. Clemons was impressed with the profitable sideline of raising Holstein steers that has been developed by the Britishers and was inclined to think that our Canadian breeders should look closely at the possibilities involved.

Mr. Powell stated that during the first six months of 1955 a total of 42,113 purebred Holsteins have been registered. This is the largest total in the Association's history for a similar period and represents a 7% increase over the first six months of 1954. Transfers of ownership were up 7% and exports had gained 25%.

The proceedings were enlivened when four prominent Holstein men, Rutherford McIlquham, of Lanark; Harold McCaul, of Napanee; Lawrence Leadbeater, of Seeley's Bay, and Gerry Nelson, of Port Perry, were arrested by the Fort Henry guard, blindfolded and then condemned to judge a class of cattle by feeling with their hands. The result reminded spectators of "the six blind men from Hunderstan who went to see the elephant though each of them was blind." Leadbeater was the winner with McCaul second, Nelson third and McIlquham bringing up the rear.

FEED WASTAGE COSTLY

Careless feeding is the greatest cause of feed wastage in poultry feeding, states T. M. McIntyre, Experimental Farm, Canada Department of Agriculture. Excessive feeding of grain or pellets in the litter may result in serious loss of feed. Records have shown that chickens wasted 29 percent of their feed when hoppers were filled full but only two percent when filled to the halfway mark. Grain wastage may be reduced by feeding grain in the hoppers on top of the mash or in separate hoppers. If sufficient hopper space is provided there is no need to overload the hoppers with feed and if deep enough little feed will be billed out. Tests with different size hoppers have shown that birds fed from a hopper 5 inches deep by 6 inches wide wasted only one-third as much feed as birds fed from hoppers 3 inches deep and 4 inches wide. With feed at four to five cents per pound, total feed costs can be materially reduced by careful handling.

Milk is one of the oldest known foods. Writings 6,000 years old tell how fresh milk is one of the most important of all foods.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Forest Protection

Again we have completed an uncomfortable week which has combined high temperatures with high humidity. Five forest fires were extinguished during this period, four in the Western or Bancroft Division and one in the Eastern or Dacre Division. While the showers were spotty, almost every part of our area had enough rain to keep the fire danger down in the medium bracket.

Twenty-seven Junior Rangers reported for duty in this District and 14 boys will be stationed at Mazinaw Ranger Headquarters and 13 at Bancroft Chief Ranger Headquarters. They will be engaged in road maintenance, clearing telephone lines, clearing Public Campsites, etc., and will perhaps come in for some forest fire fighting. These boys range from sixteen to nineteen years of age. In addition to the work they do, it is part of the programme to familiarize them with the use of tools and various methods of doing the work, training that will come in handy in later life no matter what professions they may choose.

Angling

Irrespective of the continued hot days and contrary to the very best angling tradition, good catches are being secured of black bass, pickerel and maskinonge. No trophy fish have been reported but pickerel limits are quite general and of appreciable size.

Game

There is no apparent increase in nesting waterfowl. Only a few clutches or young ruffed grouse have been observed.

Kindly folks, with the very best intentions, continue to destroy considerable game by retrieving, what appears to be starving and neglected young of birds and animals.

Several benign citizens have carried home fawns, young mallards, and in one instance, an adult swan which was believed to be crippled and unable to fly. The moulting bird was eventually returned to the marsh from which it was taken. This action was greatly delayed and if there were any young birds, their survival is doubtful.

Some adjustments are possible in cases such as these, but there can be no misconception in respect to summer deer hunting. It is difficult to believe that anyone would kill a female deer at this period, as fawns are not sufficiently mature to survive without the assistance of the parent. One of these kind of hunters was recently apprehended by Officers Ferguson and Davidson.

Salad Week July 28th to Aug. 6th

Annual Salad Week in Canada this year is from July 28th to August 6th. It is being sponsored by the Canadian Horticultural Council.

In promising the support of the Federal Department of Agriculture to this annual project, the Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture states, "I wish to commend your Council for sponsoring Salad Week which I feel deserves the support of Canadian housewives and of restaurant and hotel owners as well. The wider and more frequent use of our fresh fruits and vegetables in conjunction with our meat, fish and dairy products not only serves to make our national menu more healthful and nutritious but also provides our farmers with a better local outlet for their products."

Cycling Safely

Although a great deal has been said about how bicyclists can avoid accidents the Ottawa Citizen points out editorially, the responsibility for safety on a bicycle is not entirely that of the rider.

"The open road is made for cyclists as well as for motorists and there is room for both if common sense, courtesy and patience are employed.

"It is, of course, elementary that cyclists should travel in single file. Motorists approaching them from behind should slow down sufficiently to be able to follow the cyclists for whatever distance is necessary; to insist on passing the cyclists on a narrow road and against oncoming traffic is to invite disaster. And on a hill, it would be best if cyclists walk, for it is difficult to keep a bicycle on a straight course while riding uphill and any deviation might carry the cyclist into the path of a passing car. "It is for cyclists and motorists alike to ensure safe travelling on the highways."

Hubble Clan Reunion Picnic

(By Florence M. MacMullen)

Ninety people gathered on Sunday, July 24th in Frankford Memorial Hall for the sixth annual dinner reunion of the Hubble Clan. This group included men, women and children and four visitors from Lakefield and Belleville.

The Hubbles are descendants of the pioneer Nehemiah Hubble who permanently settled at Hubble Hill (now known as Mount Pleasant) in Rawdon Township in 1788. He had a wife and nine children when he came to Canada.

Hubbles were in attendance on Sunday from Toronto, Belleville, Tweed, Campbellford, Foxboro, Shannonville, Stockdale, Wooler, Oshawa, Glen Ross, Mount Pleasant, Alkens, Tabernacle, Hastings, Trenton, Stirling, Springbrook, Rednersville and other points.

Six years ago the founder, the late Mr. Lorne Hubble, of Murray Township, instituted the Hubble Reunion and the first two picnics were held at Presqu'ile. The groups are anxious to have a history prepared as a permanent record which will be a tribute to their ancestors who pioneered in Rawdon Township and provided homes, schools and churches.

Four long tables were set up and delicious sandwiches, various relishes, cookies and tarts made up the menu and the association furnished an abundance of ice cream.

The President, Mr. Cecil Hubble, of Foxboro, was unable to attend because of the illness of his daughter Edna. Mr. Everett Hubble, past president, was in charge and Grace was sung preceding the dinner.

Afternoon Programme

The afternoon programme opened with a period of silence in memory of two departed members who attended the 1954 picnic and have passed on since the reunion. They were Stanley May, of Belleville, and Mrs. Wm. Theed, of Toronto. Mrs. Hermon Tucker, Tweed, read an account of last year's minutes which had been prepared by Mrs. Don Terry, and she gave a full financial report.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen, genealogist, outlined the necessary preparation to complete the last three generations and bring the history up to date. She displayed several books and these included the Rosebush Family History, by Waldo E. Rosebush, which contains the full lineage of the William White family and their connecting history. The James Westcott family, of Hubble Hill, his wife being the former Huldah Hubble, granddaughter of the pioneer Nehemiah Hubble.

The new book, first off the press of the Mack and Sine Families, which was compiled by Dr. Harry W. Mack and published by his brother, Edwin P. Mack, Detroit, Mich., was displayed. Mrs. MacMullen quoted these lines from the new book:

Costly tombstones soon forgotten,
Graves are seldom seen,
Books in homes recording relatives,
Keep memory ever green.

Daniel Mack was born in Connecticut and came to Rawdon Township soon after 1800. He married Mary Nehemiah Hubble the second. Nehemiah was a son of the pioneer Nehemiah and was killed in the war of 1812. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mack are buried in the Wellman's Cemetery. Through this connection there are several pages devoted to Hubbell, White, Westcott, Weaver and Chard history; also numerous pictures.

Mrs. Russel Hubel also displayed books of family history and explained the idea of publishing a book probably in 1957. On motion of Mrs. Selburne Westover and Mrs. Lorne Hubble the historical committee were given a mandate to go ahead and prepare the balance of the genealogy for the 1956 picnic and charge expense of same to the organization. The clan is asked to send in full particulars of marriages, names and dates of births and full particulars re the last three generations of the Hubbles.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

Banns

The Banns of marriage are published for the wedding of Robert Walter Jeffery and Mary Helen Irene Irish at St. Paul's on Saturday, August 6th.

Visitors

A number of visitors were present on Sunday morning including the Rev. W. Osborne Rowland, minister of the Lower Providence Presbyterian Church, Pennsylvania. Mr. Rowland was assistant minister to Dr. Packman at the High Street Congregational Church, Deptford, London, before the late war. Minister of this important Church at Norristown, Mr. Rowland also heads up his Presbyterian's Interchange with Britain and Europe and was on his way to welcome some 40 young people arriving at Montreal for Philadelphia. Dr. Packman has accepted an invitation to preach at Lower Providence at the end of August and hopes to spend a few days with his old associate.

West Huntingdon

A very enjoyable visit to West Huntingdon Presbyterian Church for the early morning service with quite a good number present. We look forward to August 7th, our next visit.

St. Paul's

A good congregation indeed even though many of the faithful and the not so faithful were missed. However, we know them well enough to say that they were with us in spirit and will come back from their resting, visiting and holidaying with as great a love and devotion as ever.

Carmel

What a surprise, what a pleasant surprise. An evening service which was not on the original plan for the summer saw as good a congregation as on an ordinary Sunday. With the dying of the day the song of praise must have come up to the ears of the Almighty as a very pleasant thing.

I am never disturbed by the sight of a sleeper in church. As a fact, I rather like it for it always recalls to me the couple in church one Sunday morning — the lady listening, the man asleep. "Wake him up," said the minister. No response from the gal. A second time — "Will you wake that man up." Again no response. Then — "Mrs. So and So, I must ask you again to wake your husband up." "You wake him up," said the lady, "you put him to sleep."

Anyway, if a man can't sleep in Church there is something the matter with his conscience.

Power and Problems

We all have the latter. Life is full of them and it would not be worth living if it were not so. It is said that when the early Church Fathers met to gether, they talked of their powers; but when the modern churchmen meet together, they talk of their problems.

The possible reason among others for this is that man is today suffering from the effects of self-sufficiency. He has been brought up on the idea that knowledge is power. It is, of course, but the idea that man's good sense will prevent his misuse of power has been proven false.

So rapid and so wide spread has man's power developed that in its pur-limited power available to man, he has only to avail himself of it but it is power to do God's Will and God's Wisdom, it is not, surely, the power to do what we will merely for our own satisfaction and interest.

An old negro once said: "When I prays for de Lord to send me a turkey, nuffin happens. But when I prays for de Lord to sen me after a turkey, den de Lord gets results."

Picnic

The Carmel Young People are to meet on the north side of Oak Lake on Sunday at 12.30 p.m. The north side of Oak Lake is opposite to the south side, but if you miss the way, just sniff and follow the hamburger.

IVANHOE W.M.S.

The July meeting of Ivanhoe Woman's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Reid with ten members and four visitors in attendance.

The President, Mrs. Percy Cooney, opened the meeting with the singing of a hymn and prayer. The roll call was responded to by a verse of Scripture containing the word "Come."

A member was appointed for each month for the balance of the year to be responsible for the Mission Band meetings. Mrs. Bray reminded everyone to send in the recipes for the cook book. A tentative date in October was set for the bazaar. Mrs. George Wood invited the members to her home a week from Thursday evening to work on the mat.

The collection was received and the President thanked the hostess for her hospitality. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

Mrs. S. Twiddy had charge of the worship service and opened the programme with a poem. A hymn was sung and the Scripture Lesson was read by Mrs. Stanley Prest and Mrs. Keith Bray. Mrs. Don Reid gave a reading entitled "Work and Worship." Mrs. Twiddy read a portion from the Missionary Monthly. A prayer was repeated in unison. The meeting closed with the singing of a hymn and benediction by Mrs. Twiddy.

The hostess served a delicious lunch and a social half hour was enjoyed.

What's Free At The CNE

When a family is going to the EX each year, a question in the mind of the one who has to pay the bills each is "What's free at the CNE?" It costs 50 cents for each adult to get into the grounds, and a dime for each child but once in Exhibition Park, the breadwinner wants to know what he can show the family without spending too much in the process. Here is a guide for him.

There is the new Avenue of the Provinces, the main boulevard of Exhibition Park on which tower symbolic arches. The theme of this year's EX is "Canada's Parade of Progress." Each province will be represented in the Grandstand show and each day the CNE salutes a province.

There is the new Shell Tower. From an observation platform 90 feet above the park visitors will be able to get a bird's eye view.

From the newest to the oldest, is a visit to Toronto's oldest house, the Scadding Cabin furnished as it was 161 years ago. Not far from the Scadding Cabin, each night visitors will be able to view the nearer galaxies through a telescope and hear a lecture on the heavenly bodies.

In the Ontario Government Building is the kindergarten zoo of the Lands and Forests Department. Here are babies of many of the animals which abound Ontario woods. At night from this building there is an excellent view of the $50,000 worth of fireworks which the Exhibition sets off to end each day.

If a father is taking his family to the EX, he will want to find a place eventually where he can sit down, rest and enjoy himself. Each afternoon and evening from the Handshell the great United States Navy Band will play. Or each evening the Star Free Concert will provide the Lealie Bell Singers and many featured performers.

If the visitor feels ambitious, he can barn dance in the big tent. Or if he wants to hear soloists and duets, each evening the Royal Conservatory sponsors appearances of leading Canadian musicians in the Music Building or he can sit in on the competitions by musicians of various classes competing for CNE scholarships and prizes.

The sports minded have a field day for free. There is the new Canadian Sports Hall of Fame which will be officially opened just before the CNE and will be a place in which Canada can honour the sports greats of the past.

The waterfront events alone require several pages to list. There is the $25,000 Across Lake Ontario Swim, amateur swims, speed boat races, sailing races and a host of other aquatic events including the world's finest waterskiers and diving champions. For women there are two fashion shows a day and a building devoted to the Women's World. Next year there will be a new Women's Building built costing more than $3,500,000. In the new $1,500,000 Food Products Building on Food Products Day, one or more than $8,000 Worth of prizes including a new two-tone sedan may be won without spending a cent.

And on the subject of cars, there is the Automotive Building where manufacturers display latest models and some futuristic types that may be the cars of tomorrow. Manufacturers of literally thousands of other products will have their wares on display in more than half-a-dozen buildings.

In the largest show building in the world, the city lad can get a picture of Canadian agriculture. Millions of dollars worth of prize livestock, poultry and all forms of produce will be shown. In another building devoted entirely to horticulture, the amateur can see formal and informal garden displays and get ideas that can be applied in his own backyard.

On Warriors' Day and Labour Day, the two biggest annual parades in Canada take place. But every day there are thousands of other features that can be seen - and all for nothing.

In the hot water. Store in a cool place. Seasonings make a salad intriguing! A touch of this, and a sprinkle of that, will keep them guessing, but do use seasonings with discretion. Taste the salad before serving to be sure it is just right. Tken - Happy and Healthful Eating!

New Highway Date Not Set For Starting

No starting date has been set for the extension of No. 401 Highway in an eastward direction beyond Newcastle, it is announced by an official of the Highways Department in Toronto. This is the case, it is intimated, although the road building project has a high priority in the department's plans.

The line which the road is to take has been drawn up and surveyed and, at the moment, officials of the department are busy designing the overpasses and other necessary structures, it is intimated.

A good deal of work remains to be done on sections of No. 401 in the eastern part of the province, before the by-pass of the "hole in the wall" on No. 2 Highway is done.

The Kingston by-pass has to be tied in with No. 2 Highway for one thing, and, in addition, the Belleville-Trenton stretch must be linked with the existing highway.

Toronto Man Charged With Marmora Robbery

James Orville Ross, of Toronto, was charged Saturday night with the $5,400 armed robbery of the Toronto-Dominion Bank at Marmora last June 29th.

Toronto police picked up Ross and three other men for having a revolver and later booked Ross on the robbery charge.

Marmora Police Chief Charles Lockwood said that a preliminary hearing for Ross will be held in Marmora after he is brought from Toronto. Chief Lockwood said that a warrant for his arrest had been out for two weeks.

Arrest of the second man involved in the hold-up is expected shortly.

Ross was also charged with having offensive weapons along with Edward Lauber, 22, his brother, Dalton, 26, and Donald Fairlie, 26, all of Toronto.

The Marmora bank was held up on June 29th by two armed men who escaped in a car later found in Peterborough. The bandits were reported to have taken a car and kidnapped its owner the previous night, forcing him to drive to Marmora.

Father: "What did you learn in Sunday School this morning son?"

Son: "I learned that King Solomon loved wild animals. The teacher said he had a lot of wives and a lot of 'porcupines'!"

What Others Say! A NATURAL

(Vancouver Herald) An efficiency expert claims that more and more women are being employed in banks because they are natural tellers. Well, some of them give a good account of themselves when it comes to figures.

BIRDS GET THIRSTY

(St. Catharines Standard) During this hot weather give a thought to the birds, they too have a water problem. But in this case you can do something about it. A pan of water as a bird bath will make you a friend of the feathered folk for life. Backyard bird baths of any description are enjoying great popularity these days. They are just as popular as the swimming pool or the shower. So do your bit today, put out some water for the birds.

TRUST THE GREAT EDITOR

(Cobourg Sentinel-Star)

"When you write to any newspaper, in a critical vein, please remember this . . . all brides look lovely . . . all people who pass away are good people . . . all babies are beautiful . . . This is assumed by the intelligent reader . . . one does not need to elaborate in print . . . The lives of the people about us are indelible in the mind . . . what we say, what we write about them will not wash away one particle of the story they made of their own lives . . . If Mrs. John James was a fine, Christian woman, people will say so . . . If Mrs. John James wasn't a fine, Christian woman, and the obituary in the newspaper read that Mrs. John James was a fine, Christian woman, it will not alter the fact, will it? If all the people did not know the kind of person Mrs. John James was it is much safer to say that, 'she passed away' . . . It is all in the hands of The Great Editor then!"

MOST POWERFUL DIESEL IN CANADA

D. S. Thomson, vice-president, Canadian Pacific Railway, and George A. Meuller, right, senior vice-president, Canadian Locomotive Company, exchange a few words during their inspection of the most powerful diesel locomotive in Canada. Handed over to the C.P.R. at Kingston recently, the 2,400 horsepower unit boasts a top speed of 75 m.p.h. and more pulling power than any other locomotive on C.P.R. lines. The power-packed unit — another Canadian Pacific first — is equally adept at hauling freight or passenger cars. The new "Train-master" will undergo tests on the Montreal-Saint John, N.B. line, and later on the Kettle Valley Division.

Kidney Bean Salad

- 4 strips crisp bacon finely chopped
- 3 tsp. onion, diced
- 1 cup celery, diced
- 1 cup diced red apples, unpeeled
- 1 cup cheese, diced
- 1 cup kidney beans
- 1 tsp. salt
- Few grains pepper
- Mayonnaise

Combine ingredients just before serving. Serves six to eight. With crusty French bread, hot fluffy rolls or whole wheat biscuits you have a meal to satisfy the whole family. For dessert serve delicious Ontario fruit or ice cream.

Don't forget the wonderful variety of fresh fruits that can be used in salads. These, as well as vegetables, make attractive and delicious jellied salads.

The dressing for the salad is most important. There are many excellent ones to choose from, but it is fun to make your own and experiment a little. Add the dressing at the last and just enough to moisten all the ingredients.

The Home Economists of the Women's Institute Branch offer this favorite recipe for an uncooked mayonnaise.

- 1 tsp. prepared mustard
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 2 tsp. paprika
- 1 whole egg or 2 yolks
- 4 tbsp. vinegar or lemon juice
- 2 cups salad oil
- 1 tbsp. hot water

Mix together the dry ingredients (salt, pepper, paprika) and mustard. Add the egg and beat well using a rotary egg beater. Then add the oil, very gradually (by teaspoons) at first until 1/2 cup has been used, beating all the while. Now, add 1 tbsp. vinegar and beat well. Then add more oil and more vinegar beating continuously until all has been added. Lastly, beat

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Weed of the Week

WEED BEFORE CUTTING TO ENSURE GOOD SEED

A good yield of clover seed from a clean looking field often proves disappointing when graded. To bring top price it must make a number 1 grade and so must be recleaned, sometimes with special machinery. Each cleaning removes some saleable seed along with the weed seeds, and the cost of cleaning must also be deducted from the price the grower receives from his seed. As a result, the final yield is not as good as it appeared from the combine and the grower's net return is lower than he had expected.

One primary noxious weed seed per ounce of clover will prevent the entire crop making a number 1 grade. The Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture advises therefore that a few hours spent pulling weeds before the crop is cut can mean more seed to sell and a better price because of less cleaning costs. If the primary noxious weeds in the field are too numerous to pull out, it probably is not a very good crop, but one or two plants of Bladder Campion are enough to degrade ten or twenty bushels of clover seed. These would not be difficult to remove from the field before cutting the crop. White Cockle is another common primary noxious weed seed in clover and these plants should be watched for and pulled before the crop is cut. It is much easier to separate weeds from the crop before it is cut than after it is threshed.

A number 1 grade alfalfa or red clover allows five secondary noxious weed seeds per ounce. Weeds in this class to watch for in roguing are Ribgrass, Yellow Rocket, Night Flowering Catchfly, Chicory and Wild Carrot.

EMERGENCY PASTURES

In the severe drought that has caused a shortage of pasture in some parts of Ontario, the overgrazing of pasture and hay fields will result in lower pasture and hay yields in 1956, warns Dr. O. M. McConkey, Professor of Field Husbandry, Ontario Agricultural College.

Several emergency pastures can be seeded now to help the pasture situation and also relieve the pressure on the rotation pasture and hay land, states Dr. McConkey.

Some Suggestions

(1) Oats seeded at two bushels per acre will provide a succulent and palatable pasture. Oats are usually ready for grazing in four to five weeks after seeding, depending on the weather. Grazing should start when the crop is about ten inches high.

(2) Fall rye seeded at two bushels per acre by early August will produce fall and early spring pasture.

An alternative mixture might consist of one bushel of oats together with one and a half bushels of fall rye per acre.

(3) Rape seeded at two to three pounds per acre in rows 28 inches apart will provide a good fall pasture, since it is not readily injured by frost and can be grazed late in the season. Rape is an especially good pasture for beef cattle and sheep, but not so satisfactory for producing dairy herds, since there is a possibility that it may taint the milk.

In order to prevent bloat, farmers should make sure that stock when pasturing on rape have access to old pasture or a light feeding of hay, warns the O.A.C. pasture authority.

"It pays to make a good seed bed for these fall pasture crops," says Dr. McConkey. "If the soil is dry and loose, the seed bed should be made firm with a packer in order to get more even germination."

An application of from 200 to 300 pounds per acre of a mixed fertilizer suited to the soil type is suggested.

KINGSTON HOLSTEIN PRODUCES CLOSE TO 200,000 LBS. OF MILK

Harold Baker, Kingston, Ontario, has been awarded a Gold Seal certificate of Longtime Production by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada covering the almost 200,000 lb. production of his purebred Holstein cow, Avoril Coronation Ormsby Piebe. Piebe's actual production made in thirteen lactations on official Record of Performance test is 195,657 lbs. milk (78,263 quarts). She started on test as a two-year-old and made her thirteenth record as a sixteen-year-old. She has been milked twice daily throughout her lifetime.

Piebe is now eighteen years of age and has slowed up considerably but is still going to pasture with the herd. It is believed that she is again in calf and may have passed the 200,000 lb. mark.

Piebe comes by her production ability honestly for her Dam was also a great lifetime producer having a thirteen lactation twice-a-day milking total of 166,613 lbs. milk and 5,916 lbs. fat. Nine of these records were made in the 305 day division. She was Abbey Re-Echo Dew-drop bred by Wallace Havelock Robb, of Kingston, and passed all her producing life in the Baker herd.

Piebe was one of two heifers, her sister going to G. C. Fairbank, Jamesville, New York, who later bought Piebe's first two daughters. Most of her offspring have crossed the border.

SWEET CORN STUDY MADE BY ECONOMICS BRANCH

Growers of sweet corn for processing will find of more than usual interest a study on the production of sweet corn for processing in Ontario which has just been issued by the Farm Economics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The study, based on over four hundred production records during the crop years of 1948, 1949 and 1950, covers the subject exhaustively.

Compiled by J. B. Nelson, of the Farm Economics Branch, the study shows total costs per acre of production; pre harvest costs; harvesting costs as well as setting forth the economic and physical factors affecting the successful growing of the crop.

The study shows that the average grower planted 8 acres of sweet corn and obtained a yield of 2.3 tons per acre. Net returns were $75.00 per farm; $9.00 per acre or $3.00 a ton.

The study also indicates that the average amount remaining for risk and management, after all costs had been provided for, was 16 per cent of the gross returns. Break-down of the cost of production shows 31 per cent for labour; 28 per cent for power and machinery; 15 per cent for materials and 10 per cent for land use leaving the net return at 16 per cent.

Copies of the study may be obtained from the Farm Economics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Queen's Park, Toronto.

Most Forest Lands Not Suitable For Farming

When Ontario's forests go up in flames, the real loss must be reckoned in terms of trade, not trees, N. A. Walford, General Manager, C.N.R., Toronto, said recently in a public message issued by the Canadian Forestry Association of Ontario.

"Most of the recent conflagrations have swept away the forest cover from lands quite useless for farming," Mr. Walford pointed out. "Those timber-bearing lands, however, represent the source of raw material for our rapidly-expanding forest industries. Once they are swept by fire, a half-century or more may pass before they show signs of recovery. Meantime they become a public liability and their service in the regulation of stream-flow and as storage basins for our water supply is at an end."

"The railways, related as they are to every phase of the provincial economy, are deeply interested in seeing the forest resources released from the annual plague of fire destruction, and retained wholly for the support of industry and employment. Only through public co-operation can Ontario be spared these recurring disasters, for the main source of damage is the reckless conduct of those who use the wooded areas for their recreation or livelihood. The ever-rising world demand for forest products assures Ontario of a great future in converting her timber resources into marketable goods. The inevitability of this development on an increasing scale must surely appeal to the people of the province as more desirable than a chain of fire-ravaged deserts." "In this requirement, the C.N.R. is co-operating in every way with the Department of Lands and Forests," said Mr. Walford.

150 Tons Dairy Foods To Be Consumed At Scout Jamboree

When more than 11,000 Boy Scouts gather at Niagara-on-the-Lake for the World Scout Jamboree, August 18th to 28th, they will consume approximately 150 tons of dairy foods, according to Dairy Farmers of Canada. In fact, one third of all the food provided at meals for the scouts will be Canadian dairy foods, part of which has been made possible by the direct grant of Canadian dairy producers and operators. When it became apparent that there might not be enough butter to go around, various segments of the dairy industry rectified the deficiency. Dairy organizations participating were: The Alberta Dairywomen's Assoc., The Saskatchewan Dairy Assoc., Dairy Manufacturers Assoc. of Manitoba, La Co-operative Federée du Québec, The Montreal Milk Producers' Assoc., Co-operative Agricole de Granby, The Ontario Creamery Assoc., The Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing

Board, The Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Marketing Board, The Ontario Cream Producers' Marketing Board, The Ontario Whole Milk Producers' League.

The basic menus for the scouts will use the following amounts of dairy foods: butter, 17,000 lbs.; package cheese, 2,000 lbs.; grated cheese, 3,000 lbs.; milk, 110,000 qts. and 50,000 half pints; ice cream, 937 pounds. It is estimated that much greater quantities of ice cream, whole milk and chocolate milk will be consumed by the scouts at the canteens.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Fire Prevention

Campers and other people are now using the woods in large numbers and they are asked to take every precaution to guard against forest fires. Thirty-two forest fires in this District so far this season have been caused by carelessness with burning smoking materials and leaving unextinguished camp fires.

Many forest fires can be prevented by practising a few simple safety rules while out in the woods:

Smoke hand rolled cigarettes.
Use safety lighters
Use thermos bottles
Stop and sit down to smoke
While driving — do not throw out burning smoking materials carelessly — use your car ash tray.
Help Prevent Forest Fires!

Fish and Wildlife

Angling remains considerably good, except for Maskinonge. Several extra large muskies have been hooked in the Bay of Quinte, but they are all included in the list of "the big ones that got away."

The eastern section of Lake Ontario is yielding daily limit catches of small mouthed black bass of excellent size, and may be secured in a short space of time.

Officer Bruce Page reports the capture of two large mouthed black bass from the Rideau System in a single cast. The lure was a plug which carried only two gangs of hooks. The lucky angler was a visit from the State of Ohio.

A camper telephoned a few evenings ago requesting information regarding the removal of a skunk which had established permanent residence under his cottage. After considerable discussion it was discovered that the applicant was aware of all of the approved methods to perform this service, but he desired a better one which would guarantee no unfavourable repercussion. Who wouldn't like to know the answer to that one? We hoped that his suggestions would be of some value, though he was not provided with the information that one of the striped creatures was domiciled under our front step.

Union Rejects Ownership Offer

(The Rural Scene)

In the recent negotiations between the Ford Company of America and the UAW Union the big issue was the guaranteed annual wage which would entitle the workers to full regular average wages during periods of layoff.

The company rejected this demand and made a counter-proposal of a five-year contract with regular annual wage increases and other fringe benefits, plus the privilege to every employee to buy stock in the company at half price, the company itself paying the other half.

This offer was promptly rejected by the union representatives. They were appalled at the idea of the members of their union becoming shareholders in the company that employed them. So they asked for an adjournment to give them time to study the proposal.

The next day they came back with a decided rejection of the company's offer. The upshot was a modification of the union's demands. They would be satisfied with a guaranteed wage of 60 to 65 percent of the regular wage, such guaranteed wage to be paid during layoffs but not for more than 26 weeks in a year.

This offer along with larger pensions and some other fringe benefits was finally agreed to by all parties, the new contract to run for three years.

Above all things, these large industrial corporations want harmonious relations with their employees. There can be no harmony when the employees are under the control of leaders whose business in life is to preserve a militant attitude among the workers towards the employers.

We can think of no better way to promote understanding and mutual respect between the workers and the owners of an industry than to have a substantial number of the workers owning shares in the industry for which they work.

There is nothing to stop Ford workers from buying stock in the company when the shares come on the market. But they will have to pay for them themselves. The offer of the company was to pay half the price of such shares. There are not many employees of prosperous corporations that would turn down an offer like that.

If the company prospers the shares will be a good investment. If it does not prosper its wage guarantee will not be worth much.

Be Careful Picking Up Hitchhikers

Hitchhiking crimes have become so common that only the most bizarre get nationwide attention, states the Reader's Digest.

Before the summer is over you are sure to see many hitchhikers. Most will be innocent enough — soldiers on leave, youngsters without bus fare. But how can you tell the honest youth from the vicious thug who is waiting to steal your car and money and perhaps even to kill you? "There's one sure way to find out," the Digest observes. "Pick up the hitchhiker and give him a chance to rob, knife, black-jack, shoot or kill. If he does none of these things, he is all right."

The article cites case after case of robberies, assaults and killings on the nation's highways. Some of these crimes have been committed by men in uniform, others by youths mistaken for college boys. A businessman who had visited his son at College picked up a young hitchhiker only a block for his son's fraternity house.

This was the motorist's kindly custom — a "thank you" for lifts given his own son. The next day his naked, beaten and mutilated body was found in a bloody snowbank on a back road. In areas near penal or mental institutions, a large proportion of all hitchhikers are escapees. Some of these places are marked for motorists' protection, but most are not, drivers unfamiliar with the area cannot know they are entering a critical region.

Even the non-criminal hitchhiker can cause financial trouble. A driver may be held liable for injury to a hitchhiker. One collected $28,000 from his host in a recent case, the article reports.

Happy Hunting In Ontario For Uranium

Bring a Geiger counter to Ontario! You may not strike it rich but you will have a lot of fun with the ever-growing group of holidaymakers who use their vacation time to look for radioactive minerals while enjoying the great Ontario outdoors.

Currently, Haliburton is the favorite spot. One lucky strike early this month by Mrs. Dorothy Madigan, of Silver Lake, Ohio, has spurred on the Geiger-carrying tourists to new heights of enthusiasm. Mrs. Madigan, who has been coming here for a good many summers, decided to take a counter along this year and now finds herself in possession of some 40 "hot" claims. Tests of grab samples from her claims have proved very high uranium contents.

Near Bancroft, Tory Hill, Wilberforce, and other places where professional prospectors have been active during the last couple of years, resort operators are used to seeing their guests lugging the familiar little counter along with their fishing rods and other outdoor paraphernalia.

In Gilmour, the sign on the general store advertises "Geiger Counters... Casual Use for Fishermen, Hunters, etc." Truly, a sign of the times!

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

The fiercest of all fighters in the world is a tiny animal, the common shrew. Weighing only half an ounce, the shrew is so savage that it will attack, kill and devour animals twice its size. It can eat the equivalent of its own weight in about three hours. So rapidly does it burn energy that if deprived of food it will starve to death in less than a day.

Time passes quickly and before we fully realize it another year has gone by. This is particularly true in regards to subscriptions. Pine Grove

Women's Institute

The July meeting of Pine Grove Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Leslie Finkle and Mrs. Frank Finkle with 12 members and 1 visitor present.

The President, Mrs. Grace Bartindale opened the meeting with the singing of the Institute Ode and all repeating the Mary Stewart Collect in unison.

The roll call was answered with a recipe using a dairy product. Correspondence was read and dealt with. The members' attention was drawn to the Achievement Day of the Garden Clubs, August 12th in the Stirling Community Hall.

Conveners of Standing Committees reported. Current events were given by Mrs. Harry Coulter. Mrs. Frank Finkle gave highlights from the Home and Country.

Programme

Mrs. Farley Lindenfield, Canadian Industries Convener, presided over the programme, which was opened with the singing of the Institute Rally Song. Mrs. Lindenfield gave a very interesting paper on the history of the Cobourg Plastic Molding Company of the Canadian General Electric.

Plans for this company started in August 1946. Molding of plastics is a relatively new industry. There are two types of plastics, Thermoplastics and Thermosetting plastics. Some of the parts molded at Cobourg are radio cabinets, telephone desk bases and hand sets, meter cases, wall plates, cigar boxes, typewriter knobs, lacings for summer shoes and hand bags, vacuum cleaner tubes.

Mrs. Charlie Ross and Mrs. Harold Dettlor each read an article on the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company, who are building a new plant in Thurlow Township.

Mrs. Lindenfield gave a humorous reading, "Company on Sunday." Mrs. Bartindale read "A New Cow." Mrs. Bartindale conducted a contest, "What City Is It?"

After the singing of the National Anthem and the Institute Grace, refreshments were served by the hostesses and the lunch committee and a social half hour spent.

Hastings Junior Farmers Win At Quinte Meet

For the second year in a row Hastings County Junior Farmers were top point getters at the annual Quinte District Junior Farmer Field Day held Saturday at the Ontario School for the Deaf ground west of Belleville.

The Hastings boys and girls rolled up a total of 54 points, being heavy winners in the track and field events with the Hastings boys also copping the softball title, winning out by default in the final game against Peterborough County.

In winning the softball title, however, Hastings got an assist from the weather with a heavy shower halting proceedings after one inning with the Hastings lads ahead 1-0. After the shower Peterborough was unable to field a team and Hastings was awarded the contest.

In the first round Hastings defeated Victoria 12-7 in extra innings, while the Peterborough lads trounced Durham County 20-0.

Victoria won the girls' softball title, defeating the Prince Edward combines 8-7. Victoria earlier had downed Hastings 6-2 while the Prince Edward combines had little trouble in disposing of Peterborough by a 7-0 score, Victoria Second.

Victoria County placed second in the number of points with 38; Peterborough had 37; Durham 26; Prince Edward 21 and Northumberland County three points.

Winners in the girls' track and field events were as follows: 75-yard dash, Greta Craig, Durham; Linda Terry, Northumberland; Joan Long, Peterborough; Softball throw, Marjorie McFayden, Victoria; F. Craig, Durham, and Gloria McMann, Victoria. Relay race, Durham, Victoria and Hastings; Shoe kick, Ruth McMullen, Hastings; Isabelle Burns, Hastings, and Margaret McMillan, Victoria.

A new event this year for the girls was a pillow fight which proved an enjoyable affair for the spectators, if not for the contestants. Winners were Mary Wood, Peterborough; B. Craig, Durham, and K. Homan, Hastings.

Boys' track and field event winners were: 100 yard dash, Roly Coombs, Durham; Jack Allin, Durham, and Bill Pettingill, Prince Edward. Softball throw, L. Leavens, Hastings; J. Allin, Durham, and K. Allin, Peterborough. Relay race, Hastings, Victoria and Peterborough. Tug of war, Hastings, Peterborough. High jump, N. Selby, Durham; C. Reid, Hastings; K. Wright, Prince Edward and R. Lynch, Peterborough, tied for third.

Players of the victorious Hastings softball team were B. Bateman, 3B; W. Harder, ss; D. Harry, c; C. Dafeo, rf; Bob Bush, 1b; Roy Nobes, lf; Jerry Grills and J. Jones lf; Ted Aikens and Arnold Harry 2b. Subs, Bob Burkitt and Doug Burnside.

The day's event was concluded with a dance in the gymnasium at the O.S.D. where prizes and trophies were presented. Miss Barbara Redner acted as chairman of the field day committee with Dick Hilliard, Junior Farmers Association Secretary, as director of the events.

Taking Up Valuable Space

High school students "who habitually neglect their studies" will be asked to leave school, a committee of the Edmonton Public School Board decided. Students who won't co-operate will be warned, put on probation, then if no improvement is shown will be asked to leave.
